India joins pact for Indo-Pacific synergy, growth

It covers half the population of the world and more than 60% of the global GDP

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA joined the Indo-Pacific Economic Framework for Prosperity (IPEF) that was conceived by US President Joseph R Biden and launched in Tokyo on Monday, with Prime Minister Narendra Modi saying he expects it to become the engine of global economic growth.

The IPEF covers half the population of the world and more than 60% of the global GDP. "India has historically been at the centre of trade flows in the Indo-Pacific region, having the world's oldest commercial port in Lohtal, Gujarat. India is committed towards working with all Indo-Pacific countries for an IPEF which is both inclusive and flexible. The foundation of resilient supply chains must be 3Ts — Trust, Transparency and Timeliness," Modi said.

India is looking forward to collaborating with partner countries under the IPEF framework and work towards advancing regional economic connectivity, integration and boosting trade and investment within the region.

"The nations represented here today and those who will join this framework in future are signing up to work towards an economic vision that will deliver for all peoples. The vision for Indo-Pacific is free and open," said Biden.

The IPEF seeks to strengthen economic partnership amongst participating countries with the objective of enhancing resilience, sustainability, inclusiveness, economic growth, fairness, and competitiveness in the Indo-Pacific region, according to a joint statement issued on IPEF.

Amongst those who attended the event virtually were leaders from Australia, Brunei, Indonesia, Republic of Korea, Malaysia, New Zealand, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, and Vietnam. The IPEF will initiate discussions on trade, supply chains, clean energy, decarbonisation, and Infrastructure and Tax and Anti-Corruption among member nations.

It isn't a traditional free-trade pact: US

US National Security Advisor Jake Sullivan said the IPEF is not a traditional free trade agreement, adding new challenges need new approaches. The IPEF is part of US efforts to counter China's aggression on trade in the region

Meanwhile, India and the US signed an Investment Incentive Agreement (IIA) that superseded a similar pact in 1997. The IIA was signed by Foreign Secretary Vinay Mohan Kwatra and US CEO of International Development Finance Corporation (DFC) Scott Nathan. The IIA is a legal requirement for DFC, which covers various programmes, including debt, investment guarantee, investment insurance or reinsurance, and feasibility studies for potential projects and grants.

Petrol tax slashed, but you aren't getting full relief

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

CONSUMERS were in for a shock on Sunday as the reduction in petrol prices thanks to the excise duty cut was lower than they had thought. Vehicle users in Delhi were expecting ₹9.50 cut in petrol prices but the reduction was only ₹8.69. Consumers in other cities also had to shell out more than expected. Reason: the state-owned oil marketing companies (OMCs) raised the base price of petrol overnight, which jacked up the net retail price.

OMCs update the base price as and when backend crude and refining prices change. According to the price notification of OMCs, the oil companies increased the base price on petrol by 58 paise, making petrol almost ₹1 dearer. Following the hike in base price, the petrol costs ₹96.72 per litre in Delhi, instead of ₹95.91 per litre. It means people in Delhi were paying 81 paise per litre more at petrol pumps.

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman had on Saturday announced slashing the Central excise duty on petrol by ₹8 per litre and ₹6 per litre on diesel. She claimed it would reduce the price of petrol by ₹9.5 per litre and of diesel by ₹7 per litre in Delhi.

'Price benefits could be wiped out in a month'

The benefits of the excise duty cut would be lost in a month if the Centre allows fuel prices to be hiked like this, warned Kerala finance minister K N Balagopal

After confusion prevailed among consumers in Kerala on the real impact of the excise duty cut on fuel prices, the state's finance minister K N Balagopal clarified that consumers in the state should have got a price reduction of ₹10.41 following the 8 cut in excise duty and the ₹2.41 reduction in state tax but the unexpected base price shrank the benefit to ₹9.40.

Base price may be changed on a daily basis or less frequently as the OMCs prefer, said Gaurav Moda, India Energy Leader, EY. The final price comprises base price, central excise, dealers' commission and state VAT. Some taxes are absolute (like Central excise), some are levied as a percentage of the base price. So, the exact price reduction may vary from state to state.

There is no such issue in the case of diesel.

'INSPIRING KIDS, NOT RELIGION, BEHIND TEXTBOOK REVISION'

DONNA EVA & SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

Minister for Primary and Secondary Education BC Nagesh on Monday officially released the newly revised social science textbook for Secondary School Leaving Certificate (SSLC), while saying the focus of the revision was only on inspiring the students, and not on the religions of the writers.

The just released textbook — 78 percent of the revised textbooks are already printed — includes a biographical chapter on Bhagat Singh written by author Dr G Ramakrishna, as well as a chapter on role models, 'Nijavaada Aadarsha Purusha Yaaraagabeku?', written by RSS founder KB Hedgewar. New chapters also included 'Shreshta Bharatiya Chinthanegalu' by Shatavadhani Ganesh, author in Sanskrit and Kannada and an extempore poet in multiple languages; and 'Thaayi Bharathiya Amaraputhraru' by Chakravarty Sulibele, a writer who predominantly writes in Kannada and Hindi and who is the founder of Yuva Brigade (an organisation formed by likeminded individuals who intend to do something good for the country with the teachings of Swami Vivekananda as the guiding principles) and Sodari Nivedita (a women's organisation started in September 2014 with a vision to spread the ideals of Swami Vivekananda). The revised textbook also includes passages on Sukdev, Shivarama Hari Rajguru, Narayanguru and Periyaar.

Incidentally, the textbook had been revised twice.

Previously, the textbook had four other chapters, including an essay on war by Kannada author Sara Abubaker, 'Vyagragita' by AN Murthy Rao (the first director of Kannada & Culture Department and who was known for his atheistic thoughts and writings).

All-party meet on Bihar caste census on Friday

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

IN a move that will force the BJP to take a clear stand on the sensitive issue of caste census, Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar has called an all-party meeting possibly on May 27. Announcing the decision on Monday, Nitish said there is near-consensus on the date of the meeting though some parties are yet to confirm.

Nitish Kumar

The announcement comes two weeks after he had a one-on-one meeting with RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav on the issue.

In Bihar, caste remains the main factor for political groups to garner support of people in electoral politics but the BJP has adopted an ambivalent approach towards the proposed exercise. While the BJP has made massive inroads into the OBC support base in Bihar, its strong support base has been the upper castes. A caste census could show a greater number of OBCs and a reduced population of upper castes, which strengthen the demand that the 50% reservation cap be lifted. "It is all about OBCs, who have a sizable population in Bihar," said a political analyst.

BJP's dilemma on the issue was clearly visible when senior party leader and deputy CM Tarkishore Prasad was evasive in his recently media interaction. He said the party was deliberating the subject and once a decision was taken, it would be conveyed to reporters.

The Bihar Assembly had on February 27, 2020 passed a resolution requesting the Centre to hold caste census. It had passed a similar resolution on February 18, 2019.

Keep peace, not arms: Mann to Takht

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

AKAL Takht Jathedar Giani Harpreet Singh on Monday stirred the pot by urging all Sikhs to have licensed modern weapons, given the uncertain times they are living in. Hours later, Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann and Punjab BJP president Ashwani Sharma took strong exception to the call, but Shiromani Akali Dal leaders supported it.

Significantly, people in Punjab already have more than 3.50 lakh licensed weapons.

The jathedar, in his address to mark the anniversary of the sixth Sikh guru, Guru Hargobind Sahib, urged Sikh boys and girls to keep traditional material arts like gatka alive. "Sikhs should also be armed with licenced modern weapons in today's age," he said while urging people to shun drugs.

Akal Takht is the highest temporal seat of Sikhs. The jathedar is its high priest.

Appalled by the statement, Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann urged the jathedar to spread the message of peace, harmony and brotherhood, adding weapons don't have any place in a rules-based civilised society. Punjab BJP president Ashwani Sharma said that jathedar should talk about communal harmony and peace rather than weapons, adding his statement gave a wrong message to the masses.

For their part, Shiromani Akali Dal leaders justified the jathedar's message, saying weapons are integral to Sikhism. They said the call was in the context of the poor law and order situation in Punjab.

At ₹19 crore, a bridge to nowhere in Kumta

SUBHASH CHANDRA NS @ Karwar

THIS is a bridge to nowhere. Constructed at a cost of ₹19.18 crore to provide connectivity to the residents of remote Bogribail village, this mega-project was to span the Aghanashini river. But though the bridge is complete, it appears that the authorities forgot to build connecting ramps and roads leading to it. Resourceful villagers have now built a temporary ramp with arecanut tree stumps to use it to walk across.

The bridge across Aghanashini river where villagers of Bogribail in Kumta taluk of Uttara Kannada district have constructed a makeshift ramp to cross on foot

For Jayanth Naik, a villager from Bogribail, life has been nothing but jugglery for the last three years. He goes till the bridge on his bike and parks it under a big tree next to the river. He then climbs the shaky ladder to the 30-foot-tall bridge and walks across to the other side to reach his destination. "This is like a house without a terrace. This bridge is almost of no use as no vehicle can go over it," he said.

The project was started five years ago to provide connectivity to Bogribail, Uppinnakatte and Aigle Kurve villages across the river by building the bridge and a road. The work was entrusted to the Karnataka Road Development Corporation. "We were taking a roundabout route to reach Honnavar or Kumta, which is 25 km long. This bridge can reduce our travel time, but it will happen only if the road is constructed," said another resident Praveen Naik.

After promise of payment, contractors to restart work at KG Layout

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

NUMEROUS infrastructure works at Nadapraprabu Kempegowda Layout that had come to a standstill or were going on at a snail's pace are all set to restart from Tuesday.

This comes after BDA Chairman S R Vishwanath visited the layout on Monday and personally assured the contractors that 50 per cent of their pending bills of Rs 350 crore will be cleared within 10 days.

The chairman, accompanied by BDA Commissioner Rajesh Gowda and top officials of the Engineering and Land Acquisition Department, inspected the 2,650-acre layout from 7 am to 4.30 pm to sort out numerous issues faced by the owners.

Vishwanath noted that many contractors carried out the works, but their bills were yet to be cleared. "I have assured them that half of their bills will be cleared within 10 days. We have to submit it to the Urban Development Department for approval. The remaining will be cleared after a committee makes an assessment of the works and gives us its report," he told TNIE. Many contractors, including Larsen & Toubro, Star Constructions, SNP Constructions and KMC are carrying out different projects here, the Yelahanka MLA added.

Water provision

Vishwanath also said since the Cauvery Water Supply Scheme Stage V to supply water to the layout will get delayed, the BDA had decided to sink borewells and pump the water to overhead tanks. "The groundwater level here is good," he said.

Electricity supply will be provided shortly and the BDA is ready to pay Rs 59 crore to the KPTCL, the MLA added.

Commissioner Gowda said issues cropped up due to the cost of numerous items shooting up. "The bills with the revised amount have been submitted by contractors to us. The variable proposal will need to be approved as it is different from the initial estimate," he said. The road connectivity issues from Komaghatta and Kanminike, too, were studied to work out solutions, Gowda added.

3 zonal in-charges get on job, oversee rain-readiness

Byrathi, Gopalaiah, Ashwath Narayan direct officials to be on their toes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A day after eight cabinet ministers were appointed as in-charge for each BBMP zone to deal with rain-related emergencies, three of them held meetings with their respective officials on Monday and took stock of the situation.

Mahadevapura zone in-charge Byrathi Basavaraj directed the officials to be on alert to tackle the situation. However, he was left red faced as MLAs, who are part of the special task force, gave a miss to the meeting.

Speaking to reporters at Vidhana Soudha, Basavaraj claimed that the situation was much better in his zone compared to other rain-hit areas. However, Sai Layout and Nagpura Layout have been impacted, but stressed that there was no encroachment of stormwater drains at Nagpura Layout. "At present, drain-widening works are being done, and since silt was cleared in advance in the zone, the impact of the rain was not much," he said adding that following the direction of the CM, houses that were impacted are being compensated.

Mahadevapura zone in-charge Byrathi Basavaraj chairs a meeting with officials to take stock of monsoon preparedness, in Bengaluru on Monday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

On MLAs giving the meeting a miss, a visibly upset minister said that the MLAs were intimated about the meeting beforehand. "I don't know why they did not attend the meeting." He, however, clarified the MP of the area was not informed and the first meeting was called in urgency.

Similarly, Excise Minister K Gopalaiah held a meeting with officials of Bommanahalli zone and directed them to be on alert. They were instructed to ensure that the drains are cleared of silt to avoid flood waters entering homes and overflowing onto roads during heavy rains.

East Zone in-charge Dr C N Ashwath Narayan issued warnings to engineers and directed them to clear the silt within 20 days.

He held a video conference with the officials concerned and told them that 22 areas like Neelasandra, Frazer Town and Sanjaynagar come under 'Red' zone as these flood during heavy rain.

The officials informed the minister that in just two days last week, the zone received 11 cm of rainfall that resulted in many homes and apartment complexes getting marooned.

He also asked the officials to compensate the homes that were impacted at the earliest.

BBMP LENS ON SAFETY IN ALL MALLS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Special Commissioner, Administration, S Rangappa on Monday said a check will be carried out on all malls in the city to check for compliance and safety standards.

Notices will be served if safety standards are violated, and based on severity, stern action will be taken, he said. Documents of 5th Avenue on Brigade Road are being verified, after the accident on Saturday when a 19-year-old girl fell off the second floor, and her male friend, in an attempt to save her, also fell and suffered serious injuries.

Rangappa said that as per norms, regular safety checks should also be carried out, and BBMP has taken up the task. On the question of encroachment, he said that 2,626 cases are pending, of which 696 are in the courts. In case of verification of applications to award compensation, Rangappa said they have received 3,635 applications and 40 per cent of them has been completed. He added that compensation is being paid based on damage to properties after water gushed into homes, based on the verification by BBMP teams. Damage caused to vehicles is still being assessed.

Pertaining to the issue of monkeypox and Covid-19 B.4 and B.5 variant, Ranganna said that so far no cases have been reported.

Mango mela returns to wow people

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AFTER a two-year hiatus due to the Covid pandemic, the annual mango mela kickstarted in the city with much fanfare on Monday. It was inaugurated by Horticulture Minister Munirathna Naidu at the HOPCOMS head-office on Lal Bagh Road.

According to information from the Horticulture Department, 13 varieties of mangoes will be available in 200 HOPCOMS across Bengaluru Urban and Rural, Ramanagar, Kolar, Chikkaballapura and Tumakuru.

As per the minister, the mela will be on till the mango season ends. As mango production has taken a hit, the minister appealed to customers to extend support to farmers and buy mangoes at HOPCOMS.

He also said to popularise jackfruit, seven varieties of the fruit will be available at HOPCOMS. "Sidda, a special type of soft spine and sweet variety of jackfruit from Tumakuru region, will be the special attraction," he added.

According to HOPCOMS Managing Director Umesh Shankar Mirji, mangoes are priced between Rs 32 and Rs 215, and despite the slump in production and loss, they are giving decent rates to customers.

"Annually, 17 lakh metric tonnes of mangoes and 63,000 metric tonnes of jackfruit are produced. This time, only mango production is down by 40 per cent, but jackfruit production is strong," said Mirji.

Put an end to bursting crackers at night: Suresh Kumar to cops

BENGALURU: Rajajinagar MLA S Suresh Kumar has written to the police appealing them to take steps to curb the menace of bursting crackers at night. Kumar stated that the trend of bursting crackers after 10 pm has increased recently. "The results of IPL matches could also be the reason for this. It can also be seen that people are bursting crackers to celebrate birthdays. This should not be allowed," the minister appealed to senior police officers. "Bursting crackers at nights causes inconvenience to infants, elders and patients. The noise also has an effect on the behaviour of birds and animals. Hence, bursting of crackers should not be allowed during the night and action should be taken against those who do so. The night beat and Hoysala patrol personnel should be instructed to find those bursting crackers and take action against them," Kumar requested in the letter. ENS

24th May: I am always having conversations with scientists who claim that we are about to discover the secret of the universe. This really surprises me. Even most astrologers I know acknowledge that there are many things about the world that we can never understand. That's why astrology requires a good dose of wisdom if we are to use it effectively.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Financial risks continue, but there is scope to sidestep difficult issues and put arduous tasks to one side. You may emphasise sheer fun, pleasure and relaxation! Creative and competitive Ariens will benefit, especially from new friends and associations.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
For all your energy and determination, you appear to be confused and misguided in several important respects. The point is that just as your good qualities are being emphasised at the moment, so are your bad ones. And that, I think, is why you should avoid extremes - and extremists.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Whatever disturbs or distresses your peace of mind must be dealt with, if only because stressful planetary aspects are due to carry on until next week. The last thing you want to do is prolong the agony. In fact, what seems gloomy now is in fact moving towards a positive outcome.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
The Sun is exerting a deep influence over the financial sectors of your life. This is neither a good thing nor is it bad. It does, however, reinforce the suspicion that you really must get money matters sorted out. You see, if you don't do it, someone else will!

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Colleagues and co-workers are bound to want more than you are prepared to give, but this will probably be the least of your problems. If you are able, turn your serious attention to financial and spending plans. That way you'll be prepared for developments due in one month's time.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The positive aspect of current obstacles, hurdles and challenges is that you may become more experienced, self-confident and astute. Those stars which may be awkward for others, are actually quite favourable for you, and your good fortune sometimes comes in mysterious ways.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Your last word over family or domestic affairs has not been uttered. However, although underlying contradictions or complications may remain, the pressure to do something about them will be eased considerably. Particular problems can be put off until another day.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Lunar influences are distinctly challenging but, looking on the bright side, such periods tend to stimulate you into new achievements. Or, to put it another way, the best lessons are sometimes the most difficult. It looks as if your planets require you to be a rapid learner!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
I suspect that you may be slightly confused – and with good reason. One planetary force is drawing you towards everything that is routine, ordinary and mundane, while another is urging you to be profound and spiritual. You need a reminder, though, that this is still a lively moment, with much to gain.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Creative aspirations and social passions seem to be at the centre of this week's stresses and strains. You may have strong feelings about certain people, and might do better not to get too closely involved; I have a feeling that they could have expectations which can't be fulfilled.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
What magnificent times these are! Any adverse or challenging planetary influences signify that you are now presented with a remarkable opportunity to break the patterns and habits of a lifetime. If you're stuck in a negative frame of mind, you absolutely have to start looking on the bright side.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Creative activities are signified by the peculiar line-up of planets in four sectors of your chart. Bring your own unique talents to every area of your existence, both personal and professional. Employers who fail to recognise your special abilities will be wasting their money - but then, that's their problem!

Asha workers get kudos but no proper pay

WHO award turns focus on their plight: long work hours, no basic benefits; want Centre to fix ₹12,000 honorarium

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE World Health Organisation (WHO) may have honoured them, and Prime Minister Narendra Modi may have praised them, but Accredited Social Health Activist (ASHA) workers are yet to get a proper salary or honorarium, or even their uniforms.

The Karnataka Rajya Samyuktha Asha Karyakarthara Sangha, while expressing happiness on being conferred the WHO Director-General's Global Health Leaders' Award and for being congratulated by PM Modi for this, demanded that the Union government fix an honorarium of Rs12,000, apart from incentives.

Meanwhile, Tweeple have taken a taken a dig at Modi's high praise of ASHA workers after WHO honoured them, and raised questions on their basic salary and plight after having served during the Covid-19 pandemic.

Sangha State general secretary D Nagalakshmi said Asha workers are on duty for seven to eight hours a day. "Sometimes, they accompany patients for deliveries from village to district hospitals even at midnight, stretching their working hours from 24 hours to 48 hours. They travel a minimum of 1-5km per day, and 5-15km in coastal and hilly areas, but don't get travel allowance. It is almost two years since they received their last set of uniforms. The health department should not impose extra activities, other than the 37 basic duties, and also provide healthcare, retirement and other benefits to the workers," she said.

State nodal officer, Asha programme, Dr Prabhu Gowda said the workers were given their last set of uniforms in December 2020. Since Asha workers from different regions had different specifications on saree material, they have just started distributing them.

Stating that Asha workers are accredited social activists and cannot be considered employees, the National Programme Coordination Committee of the Union government has declined their proposal for a fixed salary, he said.

Replying to PM Modi's tweets, one twitter user pointed out, "Proud of their excellent work. Please pay minimum salary for their minimum livelihood. Great to appreciate. It is time to pay decent wages."

Not many Omicron patients got Long Covid symptoms

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THOSE who had contracted the Omicron variant of Covid-19 may develop Long Covid less frequently than those who had other variants, authors of a new study out of Japan concluded. However, anecdotal findings of doctors in Karnataka are mixed. While some patients did report Long Covid symptoms, doctors say a majority had symptoms like hair loss, depression, brain fog, anxiety etc, but did not have many respiratory related symptoms as in post-Delta infection.

Dr Satyanarayana Mysore, HoD and Consultant, Pulmonology, Lung Transplant Physician, Manipal Hospital, says, "The established fact and our observation is that people who developed Omicron did have different sets of Long Covid symptoms which range from cough, feverishness and day time sleepiness. We did not find Omicron give rise to less Long Covid by definition."

The study, published in journal preprint server medRxiv, reviewed and approved by the ethics committee of the Center Hospital of the National Center for Global Health and Medicine, said it represents first time epidemiological data on Long Covid in Omicron patients. But more research is needed to see if findings are applicable to Omicron patients as a whole, and to determine the long-term impact of the variant "on health-related quality of life and social productivity", the paper stated.

Dr Sunil Kumar K, Lead and Sr Consultant, Interventional Pulmonology, Aster CMI Hospital, said during the second wave, patients suffered post-viral bronchitis and complained of dry cough and throat discomfort post recovery. He explains, "Post-Covid symptoms can manifest, no matter which variant it is. However, the incidence of post-Covid symptoms caused by Omicron does not seem to cause a high or persistent rise in inflammatory markers in the body during infection. Depending on the severity of the virus, Long Covid symptoms are likely to increase. As Omicron was less severe, we are seeing fewer people with post-Covid symptoms." According to doctors, some Long Covid symptoms included fatigue, difficulty in breathing, cough, hair loss, depression, brain fog, difficulty in concentrating and memory issues.

Dr Mahesh Gowda, Director, Spandana Hospitals, said, "Post Omicron, there have been patients with symptoms of prolonged depression, anxiety and brain fog. However, some of these symptoms were part of Delta infections too."

After crash, dentist takes victim to hospital, scoots

ENS @ Bengaluru

A woman dentist crashed her speeding new car into a biker while attempting to take a U-turn in Pategarapalya, in Kamakshipalya police station limits on Saturday. The biker, Prabhakar (51), was injured and is in hospital. Caught on CCTV camera, the incident went viral on social media on Monday.

The police said the incident occurred around 10.30am when Prabhakar, who works as a writer in a government department, was on his way to office. When Dr Lakshmi tried to overtake his scooter and rammed him while taking a U-turn, he came under the car wheels. Instead of stepping on the brake, she panicked and pressed the accelerator, which left Prabhakar severely injured. Passersby had to lift up the car to rescue Prabhakar. Lakshmi (40) shifted Prabhakar to a private hospital and promised to pay the medical bills. When she failed to turn up, his family decided to file a case. Kamakshipalya police registered a case of negligent driving against Laskhmi.

YOUTH CLAMBERS UP DAM WALL, FALLS 30FT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chikkaballapur

A 25-year-old youth who attempted to clamber up the stone wall of the Srinivasa Sagara dam here on Sunday, lost his grip and dropped down 30ft. Though he sustained severe injuries, he managed to stand up with the help of his friends, and walk away from the spot.

Police are in search of the youth, who has not been admitted to any of the hospitals in Chikkaballapur district. Unconfirmed sources said he is resident of Gouribidanur and had come to Srinivasa Sagara with his friends.

According to sources, youngsters climbing the stone wall was a common sight, but police are now deployed here.

On Sunday, there were no policemen, so several youths took advantage of this and climbed the 40-ft wall to take selfies.

When the youth started up the wall, his friends were taking videos and photographs.

After climbing 30ft, he couldn't find his footing and grabbed the stone bricks. He then lost his balance and fell, sustaining injuries, but managed to stand up and walk.

According to police sources, the incident came to light on Monday after the video went viral on social media platforms.

Police should be vigilant about youngsters who make such risky attempts to take selfies, a police officer said.

A gang of seven members, including the absconding accused, had killed the victim and escaped with an antique diamond necklace, gold ornaments and cash.

The accused who has been arrested now, Madhusudhan alias Madhu, 27, from Hebbal in Mysuru, had got bail from the High Court in 2017 and was absconding since then. GOP sticks to its backward classes plus minorities formula

Names of SR Patil, MR Sitaram, Ivan D'Souza were doing the rounds

Cong picks Nagaraj Yadav, Abdul Jabbar for MLC polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CONGRESS has thrown up two surprising names for the Member of Legislative Council (MLC) elections — Nagaraj Yadav and Abdul Jabbar, indicating that the party's formula of backward classes plus minorities has remained unchanged.

The name of Nagaraj Yadav, who is Congress spokesman, was initially proposed for the chairman of the party's backward cell. But during a meeting with AICC General Secretary (Karnataka in-charge) Randeep Singh Surjewala, there was a hue and cry over backward Yadavas not getting enough representation. Party workers complained that after the exit of former minister A Krishnappa from the party, there has been no representation for Yadavs, clearing the way for Nagaraj.

Abdul Jabbar, who is Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) minority cell president, has already served one term as an MLC. His elevation is to replace CM Ibrahim, who had quit in a huff after being ignored for the position of Council opposition leader. All Muslim MLAs, except Zameer Ahmed, had signed a letter requesting the party to make Jabbar an MLC.

The decision to choose Yadav and Jabbar has come after many twists and turns. Initially, the names of SR Patil, MR Sitaram and Ivan D'Souza were proposed. But there was a fierce standoff between Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah and KPCC president DK Shivakumar as they wanted their supporters picked. Shivakumar met Congress interim president Sonia Gandhi in New Delhi on Monday and is said to have raised this issue.

The announcement came on the eve of the last day of filing nominations for the council polls, which are due on June 3. Each candidate requires 29 votes to win.

Among frontrunners from BJP are BY Vijayendra, Laxman Savadi, Geetha Vivekananda, M Rajendra, Mahesh Thenginkai, Chalavadi Narayanaswamy, MB Bhanuprakash and Siddaraju. The vacancies in the Council are created because of the retirement of Laxman Sangappa Savadi (BJP), Lahar Singh (BJP), R Timmapur (Congress), Allum Veerabhadrappa (Congress), Veena Achaiah (Congress), H M Ramesha Gowda (JDS) and Narayana Swamy (JDS).

Elect Horatti, create record, say teachers

HUBBALLI: Teachers under the aegis of Karnataka State Secondary School Employees Association have vowed to elect Basavaraj Horatti for a record eighth time from the West Teachers constituency of the Legislative Council. They claimed that for the last 42 years Horatti has been striving hard to address problems faced by teachers. They passed a convention at a teachers convention held in Hubballi on Monday. The resolution further states that Horatti dedicated his life for the well-being of teachers and the field of education. Teachers are convinced that he is the only person who can find solutions to the issues that are still unaddressed, the resolution adds and has appealed to teachers to exercise their first preference vote to Horatti. Expressing his gratitude, Horatti said he would continue to strive for the well-being of teachers by addressing their problems. Though the BJP has not yet announced Horatti as its official candidate, he has already started campaigning in Hubballi-Dharwad. He visited several educational institutions in the twin-cities and sought support from teachers. ENS

Education-linked rows in K'taka disturbing: Irish envoy

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

WITH numerous, back-to-back controversies surrounding the schooling system over the last five months, Karnataka's image has taken a beating internationally. Irish Ambassador to India Brendan Ward told TNIE: "Multiple controversies do nothing positive for Karnataka's international image. This is one of the most developed states in India. It is one of the richest and has traditionally had very high education standards. Some of the scenes we have seen over the last few months have been quite disturbing."

This especially does not bode well with the implementation of the National Education Policy 2020 (NEP), where several partnerships are in the making in education, especially higher education. Ward, however, does not believe that the situation is dangerous enough to affect scholarships. "Karnataka remains an attractive destination for international investments as compared to most other parts of the country. Also, every area in the world has its own political problems," he said.

Recent controversies in the state have triggered reactions from across the world, most notably from the United States Office of International Religious Freedom which had called the row over wearing hijab in schools as a violation of religious freedoms.

But NEP, Ward said, would make international education more accessible to students, especially with transferable credits. "NEP is still in the implementation phase. It will make it a bit easier if credits are transferable, for degree programmes or a semester abroad. A lot of universities already have cooperation agreements with Indian universities and colleges, for shared research projects and exchanges between faculty. NEP will possibly make it easier and more mainstream," he said.

3 file papers, many back KRRS candidate

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Belagavi/Mysuru

THREE candidates, including sitting BJP MLC Arun Shahapur, filed their nomination papers for the Legislative Council election to the North-West teachers constituency on Monday.

NB Bannur, denied a ticket by Congress, filed his papers as an independent, followed by Shahapur and another independent Shikant Patil.

Bannur contested the last election on a Congress ticket but lost by a narrow margin. He is confident of winning now, but has to fight both BJP and Congress candidates.

"The candidate elected earlier neither worked for the cause of teachers nor fulfilled any of their demands. The Congress contestant is an outsider and he is not aware of teachers' issues and demands," alleged Bannur

The Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha, Dalit Sangharsha Samiti and other organisations have come together to field Prasanna V Gowda from the South Graduates' constituency. They have planned a show of strength at the Townhall in Mysuru on May 25.

KRRS state president Badahalapura Nagendra said Prasanna will file nomination papers on Wednesday.

They will take out a rally to the regional commissioner's office after a public meeting, which will be addressed by writer Devanoor Mahadev, Kannada activist Pa Mallesh and others.

Claiming that over 47 organisations have extended support to the KRRS candidate, DSS state convener Guruprasad Keragodu said Prasanna will represent all progressive organisations and movements and will win the election.

Controversy erupted after first revision

THE essay talks about eating vegetarian and non-vegetarian food, 'Mruga Mattu Sundari', by P Lankesh, which retells the story of 'Beauty and the Beast', and a committee-written chapter on Swami Vivekananda titled 'Thoughts of Swami Vivekananda'.

Controversy erupted post the first revision of the textbook with chapters by AN Murthy Rao, Sara Abbubaker and P Lankesh removed. In addition, the chapters on Bhagat Singh and Swami Vivekananda had also been omitted.

Student groups and political parties protested against the numerous omissions after the textbook had been uploaded to the Karnataka Text Book Society's website. Up till Monday, the old textbook was still available on the website, with Associated Managements Of Schools in Karnataka general secretary D Shashi Kumar saying the issue had delayed the distribution of textbooks. "I had been calling officials nearly everyday on the release, but they had been hesitant to release the book due to fear of controversy," he told TNIE.

Minister Nagesh on Monday defended the revision, saying, "We focused only on content in inspiring kids on self-respect, self-reliance, and on dedicating themselves to nation. We didn't focus on religions of writers." He said, "The chapter of Narayan Guru was removed from History textbook of Class 10 to lighten the syllabus and included in the Kannada textbook. Few lines on Periyar, where he states Rama represented Vaidika and Ravana represented Dravida, have been removed, but chapter on him has been retained."

Nagesh said, "We didn't have political orientations unlike Congress which got the syllabus revised in 2014. In 2014, when the Congress got the syllabus revised, they got usage of words "Hindu" "maathrubhumi", "thainaadu" removed. Among 534 titles, while 83 titles of textbooks of social science from class 6-10 and Kannada from class 1-10 are revised and approved, revision of Kannada text book of class 10 has been at the center of controversy. In this book alone six chapters have been removed and eight new chapters are added under supervision of the committee led by Rohit Chakratheertha.

Khader seeks clarity on use of loudspeakers

MANGALURU: Deputy Leader of Congress Legislature Party UT Khader has sought more clarity on the implementation of the Supreme Court order on the use of loudspeakers. Addressing a press meet here on Monday, the former minister alleged that the police and other enforcing agencies have no clarity on the issue which has led to confusion among religious and cultural organisations. "There is no set format to apply permission from the authorities to use public address system. Some say that all religious places should avail permission by May 25. When some individuals approached the police in this regard, they did not get a proper response. The police were not aware of any such deadline," he said. Further, he said that the restrictions on the use of loudspeakers will come in the way of conducting Yakshagana, Kola, Uroos and other such events (normally held during night hours). Also, he said that the restriction will affect the livelihood of people depended on the folk art. ENS

Secretariat employees to go on strike

BENGALURU: The secretariat staff, who are up in arms against the government for downsising the employees on the pretext of administrative reforms, will go for a one day strike on Saturday. About 5,000 of them, including 3,000, from the secretariat and 2,000 from the legislature, will go on leave on that day. "The government is all set to cancel 542 junior assistants jobs which is unscientific and undemocratic. The government has been trying to run the secretariat in a corporate style," alleged Guruswamy P, president, Karnataka Secretariat Employees' Association. Cong plans state-level Chintan Shivir

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AHEAD of the 2023 Assembly elections, Congress is planning to hold a Chintan Shivir at the state level on the same lines as the national level shivir conducted at Jaipur, Rajasthan a few days ago.

The bigger Chintan Shivir was attended by senior party leaders from the state, including Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah, KPCC president DK Shivakumar, Rajya Sabha MP Mallikarjun Kharge and more.

The state-level Shivir will be organised either in Benglauru or Belagavi, and KPCC working president Satish Jarkiholi has been made in charge. This brainstorming session has been planned to reach the message of the party high command to the last man, sources said.

The party has already started the work by holding smaller conventions at the regional level to woo the minority community, while JDS too is targeting the same vote bank. The first such convention was held by the Tumakuru District Minority Congress on Sunday and it was attended by Siddaramaiah. Over the next few days, similar conventions are planned in Kittur-Karnataka, Kalyana-Karnataka, Malnad, Coastal Karnataka and Bengaluru regions.

The party is also holding Na Nayaki conventions, targeting women. It is on the same lines as "Main ladki hoon, main lad sakthi hoon" campaign in Uttar Pradesh that was led by All-India Congress Committee General Secretary Priyanka Gandhi. It will target the three crore-plus women population in Karnataka that forms a big chunk of voters.

Other than these, smaller workshops for party workers will be held for one to three days. This is part of the "Namma boothu, namma mathadaana", where workers will be trained in monitoring each booth. They have to look for people who are anti-ruling party and make them join Congress.

Siddu summoned by court for violating Covid-19 norms

BENGALURU: THE 42nd additional chief metropolitan magistrate in Bengaluru has summoned Congress Legislature Leader and former chief minister Siddaramaiah to appear before it on May 24 in connection with the violation of Covid-19 curbs during the party's Mekedatu padayatra. A case was filed against Siddaramaiah, KPCC chief DK Shivakumar and scores of other leaders for taking part in the padayatra by the Ramanagara Rural police. The leaders have now been asked to appear before the court on Tuesday. It also directed Siddaramaiah to attend personally or the pleader (lawyer) to appear on his behalf). Congress sources said Siddaramaiah is likely to attend the hearing on Tuesday. The theme of the padayatra was 'Namma Neeru Namma Hakku' (Our water, our rights). Though the padayatra commenced in January, they abruptly suspended after reaching Ramanagara from Kanakapura. They, however, resumed the rally in March, when the third wave was at its peak. ENS

During the party's 'Chintan Shivir' held in Udaipur recently, there was a buzz that Karnataka Congress leaders, including Shivakumar, were insisting that Priyanka should contest the RS seat from Karnataka as it would boost the morale of the rank and file of the party ahead of 2023 assembly polls which is crucial for the grand old party.

On the selection of candidates for the MLC seats, Shivakumar said he and Siddaramaiah had presented their opinions before the party high command. "Leaders from minority communities who find it difficult to contest assembly polls will be given preference," he said.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kollam

FOLLOWING a four-month trial, the Kollam Additional District and Sessions court on Monday found husband S Kiran Kumar, the only accused in the sensational Vismaya case, guilty over dowry death charges. The quantum of punishment will be pronounced on Tuesday.

Vismaya, a 24-year-old BAMS student who had complained of dowry harassment, was found hanging in the bathroom of Kiran's house at Sasthamcotta on June 21.

Kiran has been convicted under IPC sections 304B (dowry death), 498A (dowry harassment) and 306 (abetment to suicide). "This is a verdict against dowry, the social evil, and not against a single person. We all expect Kiran to get the maximum punishment for the crime," said special public prosecutor G Mohanraj.

The sleuths and Vismaya's parents expressed satisfaction with the judgment.

Digital evidence including the phone recordings of Kiran and Vismaya before her death turned out to be vital proof in the case. The audio clip produced before the court include a message sent by Vismaya to her father nine days after her wedding and call recordings of Kiran and Vismaya. In one clip, Vismaya is heard telling her father that she might end her life if she continued to stay at Kiran's house. The motor vehicles department had dismissed Kiran, who was an assistant inspector with its enforcement squad in Kollam , from service following his arrest. South Zone IG Harshita Athalluri led the probe.

Every year, villagers construct the temporary ramp as it gets washed away in the floods. "When that happens, we go to the bridge on boats," said Jayanth.

Local Kumta MLA Dinakar Shetty blamed the contractors for the delay.

"The project did not start for a long time after the foundation stone was laid during the Siddaramaiah regime. I ensured money for the project after our BJP government came to power. But the process of acquiring the land was inordinately delayed. I had raised the issue in the previous Assembly session. The minister has now said funds will be allocated. PERARIVALAN VERDICT A WAKE-UP CALL FOR GOVERNORS

The Supreme Court last week invoked its extraordinary powers under Article 142 to free A G Perarivalan, one of the convicts in the Rajiv Gandhi assassination case. The court's order not only clarified the role and powers of the state Governor but also faulted the then Tamil Nadu Governor for referring a 2018 recommendation from the state Cabinet to release the seven convicts in the case to the President early in 2021. Perarivalan was convicted in 1998 and sentenced to death. In 1999, the SC upheld the sentence. However, in 2014, the apex court commuted the sentence to life. The release of the convicts has been an emotive issue among some sections of society and the state government has explored various means to free them. Subsequently, in 2018, the Cabinet recommended the Governor release them under Article 161. However, the Governor failed to respond. Instead, when the matter came to court, it was learnt that the Governor had referred the matter to the President.

In its order, the Supreme Court said the Governor's action to refer the matter to the President was without any backing in the Constitution, pointing out that the Cabinet's advice is binding with regard to the exercise of powers under Article 161. It also said that non-exercise of the power under the article or inexplicable delay would be subject to judicial review (although it fails to provide a time frame for this).

In reiterating the role and responsibility of the Governor and faulting the action to refer the matter to the President in what could be read as an effort to put off fulfilling his duty, the court has sounded a warning against the Governor's attempts to thwart the will of the people by simply delaying acceding to the requests and advice of the elected government. TN has already claimed that several legislations are pending with the Governor, awaiting his assent. One of the Bills, to exempt the state from NEET, was only recently forwarded to the Centre after months of delay. The SC verdict should come as a reminder to Governors, especially those seeking to act on behalf of the Centre, that they are "but a shorthand expression for the state government".

NIKHAT BOXES AWAY SPORTS CEILING

It was an incredible week for Indian sport. Even before the euphoria of the Thomas Cup victory in badminton died down, Nikhat Zareen brought cheers to the country that is slowly getting used to more and more sporting success. When she stood atop the podium, there was collective joy. The whole country celebrated as one. That's the beauty of sport. Even in this divisive society of extreme reactions, in this world of social media ecstasy, anxiety and vilification, sport has the power to bridge barriers irrespective of caste, creed and religion.

At another level, Nikhat can be considered an iconoclast. For a Muslim girl from Nizamabad, taking up a male-dominated sport was not easy. The 25-year-old former world junior boxing champion had to constantly battle societal norms as a child and while growing up as a boxer. When she started showing her skill inside the ring, she started facing formidable challenges from her seniors and peers. At one point of time, she had to endure mental trauma when she challenged six-time World Championships gold medallist M C Mary Kom for a place in the 2020 Tokyo Olympics. She eventually lost the bout under acrimonious circumstances but never gave up. So when she won the gold at the world championships, it meant more than just a medal. It was a result of those multiple challenges she had to overcome. Like she herself confesses, "I am very stubborn." And stubborn she is. But one with a big heart and the ability to inspire.

Since women boxing's introduction at the London Olympics in 2012, Mary Kom has won a bronze. Earlier, Vijender Singh had won India's first boxing medal at Beijing Olympics. In London, Saina Nehwal won a bronze in badminton. Since then, the two sports have grown both in terms of quality and quantity. However, the delayed Tokyo 2020 Olympics was not good for both as shuttlers and boxers won fewer medals than expected. These two results would augur well for India as our sportspersons prepare for bigger challenges, including the Paris Olympics in 2024.

The prices are up, demand is likely to be down. If inflation does continue at these high levels, then recession might not be too far away

HAS INFLATION BITTEN INTO YOUR MONTHLY BUDGET?

HARISH BIJOOR
Brand Guru and Founder, Harish Bijoor Consults

SOUMYADIP SINHA

Have you been bitten? Has inflation bitten you hard and tight? The recent months have seen prices rise and purchasing power fall in India. The "I-word" is incidentally sweeping the world at large as a post-pandemic reality, if you haven't noticed it yet.

Have you felt the pressure of higher prices bite into your monthly budget? Has the cost of living in India gone up dramatically over the last several months? And is the blame being laid right at the doorstep of the Ukraine-Russia war and the high prices of crude oil (last at $112.5 per barrel)? And is this the cost one pays for living in a highly inter-connected and dependent world when it comes to the movement of goods and services? Many questions.

The fact remains that India is witnessing very high prices at the market level. The Wholesale Price index (WPI) for April 2022 stands at 15.05% and the more palpable Consumer Price Index (CPI) stands at a big 7.8%. The US inflation numbers hover around the 8.3% mark as opposed to their internal comfort target of 2%. Inflation is a global Dracula on rampage.

Looking within India, the recent Ministry of Commerce and Industry numbers for April 2022 reveal that kerosene (still used widely at the bottom of the pyramid of consumption) stands at a whopping 118% in WPI terms month-on-month as compared to one year ago. The costs of cabbage, radish and karela (bitter gourd) have increased by 75–88%. Petrol is expectedly at 61% with a relatively free-market global pricing structure adopted by India. In short, the prices of everything from potato (+20%) to coriander (+48%) have gone northwards. The home shopping basket brings in less but you and I spend a lot more than ever before.

How does a middle-class family manage all this? How does a family at the lower end of the earning spectrum react to high prices? A simple solution would be if wages of all were to be adjusted to inflation as well. But then that is an utterly stupid utopian solution, right? Things that happen in utopia don't happen in the real world you and I live in.

The LIG (lower-income group) and MIG (middle-income group) household need to make adjustments and they do. Since the outflow of the monthly purchase expenditure on the basket of products and services cannot be stretched endlessly and dug out from the savings kitty, the shopping basket starts to look different. The hunt for the cheaper replacement is on in the category of fruits and vegetables, just as it is on in the case of staples and non-staples. Is there cheaper dal around? Is there cheaper chana around? Substitution happens. Lower-quality and lower-nutrition products enter the purchase basket as well. The dining thali looks different. A watery rasam replaces a nutritiously thick sambar. The housewife is on a quest to ensure that the quantum of food on the thali is not reduced. Subliminally however, and without the overt knowledge of many, nutrition suffers. Inflation has taken its bite. And how.

When fewer clothes are sent to the dhobi for washing and ironing than before, it doesn't matter as much as when less nutrition is going into the gut of the family. The services category suffers. New buys of auto and durables suffer as well, but this really affects these highly inflation-sensitive categories and their manufacturers. It doesn't affect the well-being of the consumer in real terms. Yes, there is a recessionary impact on these categories, but there is the promise that it will all return and business will be back as usual, as the Inflation Dracula goes back into his, her or their cave. Wherever that is.

In the FMCG market for goods and services, there is quick brand-substitution. My recent research in the category indicates an 8% replacement of brands in the LIG as opposed to a 19% replacement in the MIG homes over the last three months ending 30 April 2022. Do remember that the LIG homes don't seem to have any option for a downgrade, as they already live with bottom-rung popular brands. The UIG homes are as yet not rattled at a 1.4% replacement norm today. Premium brands are replaced by more realistically priced options in the market. Add to it the solution of "use-less and stretch-more" that kicks in instinctively. Product use is controlled even on the recently downgraded and substituted brand. A toothpaste saved is a toothpaste earned.

> In the FMCG market for goods and services, there has been quick brand-substitution. My recent research in the category indicates a 19% replacement in the middle-income group homes. Premium brands are replaced by more realistically priced options in the market

Inflation is the big dragon in the room then. As the Ukraine-Russia war continues into its 90th day, Brent crude oil prices threaten to nudge $120 per barrel and China keeps its production closed due to its Omicron wave, expect this bite to continue, hopefully at the same level, if not double-digit inflation levels, sooner than later.

Inflation is a balloon that fills endlessly. Inflation chokes. In many ways it hollows out consumption. The first inputs that suffer are those that go into the body as food and drink, then into services of every kind, into production raw materials where input cost is debated to death and replaced at times with inferior stuff. And this hollows out the product and its quality as well. In my research across the category of FMCG consumables and durables of every kind, including soft industrial materials and chemicals such as PVC and PU, inflation reigns at 26% and threatens not to come down in the long run by more than 8%. Sadly, prices, when they go up, don't really come down to the last level they occupied. They reign forever at a higher point. At this point of time, however, many manufacturing industries that depend on key raw materials with tightly controlled prices are battling the challenge of how to manage all this. Supply arteries are choked and raw material prices are causing a supply-side heart attack among industries.

The question must be asked. If inflation does continue at these high levels, then is recession not too far away? The prices are up, demand is likely to be down. A stagnant economy is a ripe spot for a recession. And recession is really a cascade that has a domino effect across countries. If the US sneezes, the whole world catches a cold. Even today. A price one pays for thriving and living in a very interconnected world.

As I close this rant on inflation, it is important to remember that price rise globally is a political animal as well. Opposition parties in every country love inflation and its pressures as it gives them a palpable plank to climb and dominate the debate from the other side—from the side of the voter. While geopolitics and international diplomacy may not be items that will be felt by the common citizen of a country, inflation bites. It bites not once, but time and again. It bites every time you get into the market to buy your daily consumables. Political parties will make merry on this one as well. As they do, the ruling party needs to do everything in its power to keep it all under control. The wheat export ban is one such move. Let's wait for more. Many more.

HOW TO TACKLE STIGMA AROUND SCHIZOPHRENIA

VINDYA V RAI
Consultant Clinical Psychologist, Bengaluru

DR DEBANJAN BANERJEE
Consultant Psychiatrist, Kolkata

"I feel like I can never be the kind of person I was before this illness. They say I am weird and scary. It makes me ashamed. My doctors tell me that it's not my fault. But I fear nobody will see me as 'normal' again. It feels like the suffering is endless."

These are the words of an individual who is recovering from schizophrenia.

Such excerpts are not uncommon. Schizophrenia is one of the severe mental disorders that can be extremely distressing to the individuals experiencing it. If the affected individuals are given the right treatment at an early stage, there's a good chance of recovery from the symptoms. However, as reflected in the words above, their suffering doesn't end there. Lack of social acceptance and being treated like outcasts act like roadblocks in the path of their meaningful recovery.

Schizophrenia is a serious mental health condition that affects how a person thinks and perceives his/her environment. It's a condition where the individual is not fully in touch with reality. They may have disorganised thinking that manifests in the form of irrelevant speech and behaviour. They may hold beliefs that are not real and are unshakable despite evidence to the contrary. They may have hallucinations in the form of hearing voices which are often threatening in nature, seeing, smelling or feeling things that aren't there. Some also develop paranoia and believe that someone will cause harm to them or their family.

One of the common characteristics of this disorder is a lack of awareness about the illness. Schizophrenia affects 1 in 300 people worldwide and is not as common as other psychiatric illnesses. Like all mental disorders, there's no single cause for schizophrenia. It stems from an interplay of multiple factors like genetics, environmental and psychological stress, neurological deficits and drug abuse. This illness causes considerable disability in personal, family, social, educational and occupational domains.

As per the World Health Organization (WHO), discrimination, stigma and violation of human rights of people living with schizophrenia is common. Symptoms are often considered "weird" and misattributed to supernatural elements, black magic or intellectual deficits. Individuals living with schizophrenia are thus mistakenly portrayed as violent. The resulting stigma leads to social exclusion of these individuals, which can limit their job opportunities. Stigma also delays treatment access. Along with the affected individual, their families are also discriminated against.

One of the effective ways of combating stigma is talking about it. All forms of discrimination largely stem from ignorance or lack of understanding. What also compounds the stigma is labelling people with mental health issues. People living with schizophrenia are frequently labelled as "crazy", "weird", "evil", "dangerous", "stupid", "senseless", etc. They are also termed as "possessed" or "demonic" and society resorts to magico-religious practices to "cure" them. This can do more damage to the mind and body of an affected individual.

As the saying goes, "We fear what we don't understand." For most people, lack of understanding or knowledge about schizophrenia makes them fear the affected individuals. There is significant sensationalism and dramatisation of symptoms of a mentally ill person in the media. We also see some narratives where crime is associated with an individual having schizophrenia. They paint a picture that these individuals cause harm to others and are "out of control" and that they should be isolated and kept behind closed doors. Such a dark depiction is absolutely far from reality.

> Individuals with schizophrenia are not aggressive. Rather they often become the victims of violence, abuse and fraud. We sometimes come across people in our clinical practice telling us how even their family members call them 'crazy' during an argument even after their symptoms have reduced

Individuals with schizophrenia are not aggressive by nature. Rather they often become the victims of violence, abuse and fraud. We sometimes come across people in our clinical practice telling us how even their family members call them "lunatic" or "crazy" during an argument even after their symptoms have reduced. Any behaviour is by default attributed to their illness. These actions of discounting a person's credibility or opinions by using derogatory labels with reference to their illness can be very detrimental. Treated well and with care, people with schizophrenia can live healthy and productive lives.

Recovery from schizophrenia not only signifies reduction of symptoms but includes functional and social improvement as well. Reintegration with society is a very crucial element to recover from mental health conditions. Especially in illnesses like schizophrenia where the person may have no control over their thoughts and behaviour when they are symptomatic, it can largely affect their self-esteem during recovery. They may have pieces of memory about their illness that may be difficult to make sense of as they get better. They may constantly doubt their ability to judge or understand the situation. There can also be guilt and shame associated with their past behaviour when they exhibited symptoms. If people in their family and surroundings are accepting and encouraging of them, it can help them deal with these issues effectively and eventually lead better lives.

Compared to a few decades ago, people are now more aware of mental health issues. This is optimistic, but there's a long way to go. Media, lay counsellors, mental health professionals, primary healthcare workers, policymakers—all can play a major role in building an inclusive community with equal rights and opportunities for those suffering from schizophrenia.

Illness is not someone's fault and they should not be blamed for it. It's our collective responsibility to eliminate stigma and labelling against schizophrenia by staying informed, fighting misinformation, spreading awareness and caring for those affected. Empathy and education are the key words. This World Schizophrenia Awareness Day, we cannot ask for more.

Kudos to Kerala police

This is with reference to the article Police give HOPE to school dropouts (May 23). The Kerala state police, often at the receiving end for a plethora of reasons, needs to be complimented for the 'HOPE' scheme. It has provided school dropouts with a platform to transform and integrate with mainstream society. Young children who discontinue education generally get into various kinds of addictions and commit crimes. This initiative by the police should be a template for others to emulate.

Don't hike prices so often

The Union government's decision to reduce excise duty on fuel and pay a subsidy of ₹200 on LPG cylinders to over nine crore people under the Ujjwala Yojana scheme deserves kudos. However, one hopes that the Central government does not abnormally increase prices and then marginally reduce it for some praise. Should the fares of cabs and autos be hiked whenever the fuel prices are increased? The prices of essentials like fuel products should not be changed so often.

K R Jayaprakash Rao, Mysuru

Positive step by Maha

Kerala finance minister K N Balagopal said that there would be no reduction in the state's fuel tax and that it is the Central government's duty to do so. Meanwhile, Maharashtra reduced the prices in tune with the Union government's initiative and that is a positive step.

S Lakshmi, Hyderabad

Need to cut VAT on fuel

It is too much to ask the Central government to bring parity between the pre-2014 rates and now. Just like Maharashtra and Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu should also reduce VAT on fuel to help the poor and the lower-middle class. The TN government will be appreciated if it takes this step for the people.

Who is PM referring to?

One really wonders what the prime minister meant when he said that some people are trying to create a problem in the name of language. It is only his Union home minister who created a war of words when he said that Hindi should be promoted in the place of English in all official correspondence. It is time the prime minister instructed his ministers and partymen to stop using Hindi to divide the nation.

CONTEXTUALISING HISTORY—RIGHT & LEFT

Two eminent historians take up opposite sides of a debate on rewriting Indian history, its impact on society and social harmony

A debate is raging in the country on re-writing history and the role of historians in presenting historical facts. Kavita Bajeli-Datt speaks with renowned historians from two different streams: Prof Mridula Mukherje, who has taught history at the Centre for Historical Studies, JNU for over four decades, and Prof Makkhan Lal, archaeologist and historian, who taught in BHU and AAMU on the narrative accompanying the debate. Let's begin with Prof Makkhan Lal, founder director of Delhi Institute of Heritage Research and Management.

Are we witnessing an overhaul of the historical narrative in the country? Why is it happening?

I don't see an overhaul of the narrative or history. History has always been written and rewritten. Before Independence, there were three mainstream historians – imperialist historians (British viewpoint), Marxist historians and nationalist historians. Right from Nehru to Indira Gandhi, Left historians dominated the discourse. This was because they occupied crucial positions within the government or government-funded bodies. Yet there was always an alternative view of history writing, which was labelled communalist. The situation has now changed. Left patronage has gone. This is discomforting for the Left and their sympathisers. That's why it is being said that overhauling is going on. With changing times, perspectives change.

History has always portrayed Aurangzeb as a tyrant. Why have we made him so prominent?

Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin are not respectable names. Yet modern history discusses them. We have to discuss Aurangzeb -- how he treated his people, how he harmed non-Islamic people, and forcibly converted them. We as a nation should know how many temples Aurangzeb destroyed.

Should we see ancient Indian history from the viewpoint of temples' destruction? Will it affect constitutional harmony?

Where is the constitutional harmony when you don't have a uniform civil code? It is constitutional anarchy. India is the oldest living civilization in the world. Destruction of temples is part of history. Those who became Muslims have forgotten that their ancestors were Hindu. There are 3,700 temples that were demolished and mosques were built on them. We have always asked for three temples — Ram Janmabhoomi, Kashi and Mathura shrines.

India was a liberal society. Why was a right-wing perspective absent from public discourse?

Liberalization is part of its civilizational ethos. Liberalism doesn't mean you allow yourself to be wiped out. Arms have to be taken up by liberal society when its own existence comes into question. There were many eminent writers and books written, but they are now more visible because of social media and technology.

Verbatim

PROF Mridula Mukherjee. (She was director, Nehru Memorial Museum and Library, from 2006 to 2011, and Dean, School of Social Sciences, JNU from 2012 to 2014) Post-Partition India focused on bringing communities together.

A certain kind of history was presented. Were certain facts suppressed?

There was no official attempt to direct the kind of history that should be written. Historians were free to research and write and teach. However, at the level of school textbooks, a concerted effort was made to get first-rate historians to write for children. The effort was also to write history free from colonial bias.

If the selection of facts was non-partisan, why is it coming out in such a violent narrative?

This is a contrived narrative, motivated not by a desire for a more objective history but by political agendas.

It is often said a right-wing narrative was not allowed, and that's why there is a churning now.

Non-communal historians can't be faulted if there were not enough takers for a right-wing communal narrative. The notion that some historians conspired to keep out those with opposite views is a product of a fertile imagination

Mridula Mukherjee, Historian

Non-communal historians can't be faulted if there were not enough takers for a right-wing communal narrative. The notion that some historians conspired to keep out those with opposite views is a product of a fertile imagination.

Was it a mistake in not portraying the invaders in a proper perspective?

No, I don't agree. All these so-called new facts were known for a long time. British colonial history books were always talking about 'Muslim tyranny' over Hindus to justify their own rule. To the Hindus, they said, 'we saved you from Muslim tyranny', to the Muslims they said, 'if India becomes independent and we go away, Hindu majority will rule over you'. That was the policy of 'divide and rule.'

Do you agree history is written by whoever is in power?

If this were true, no worthwhile history would be written anywhere. Indian historians have written history according to the rules of the discipline and the profession. That is why their work is respected across the world. How is it that the so-called Left historians, such as Irfan Habib, Romila Thapar, Satish Chandra, RS Sharma, and Bipan Chandra, who are sought to be demonised today are respected all over the world? Their works sell in thousands even today despite being thrown out by the National Council of Educational Research and Training two decades ago.

Emotional connect, business pitch: PM's focus in Tokyo

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

PM Narendra Modi made an emotional pitch of Bharat Chalo, Bharat Se Judo to the Indian diaspora in Tokyo where he also discussed ways to expand business ties with the cream of top corporate houses.

"Before Vivekananda was going to Chicago for his historic address, he had come to Japan. It left a deep impression on his mind in Japan. He had openly praised the patriotism of the people of Japan, the confidence of the people and awareness of the people of Japan for cleanliness," Modi told a gathering of 700 people from the Indian diaspora on Monday.

The PM highlighted India's socio-economic developments and reform initiatives — particularly in infrastructure, governance, green growth and digital revolution — in the recent years. "India and Japan are natural partners. Japan has played an important role in India's development journey,' Modi said. "Today's world needs to follow the path shown by Lord Buddha. This is the way to save humanity from the challenges facing the world today, be it violence, anarchy, terrorism and climate change."

In his roundtable with top executives and CEOs of 34 Japanese companies, Modi walked the extra mile by proposing to celebrate Tokyo's contribution to India's development journey in the form of a 'Japan Week'.

India has attracted a record FDI of USD 84 billion in the previous financial year despite the slowdown in global FDI, he told the top executives.

The PM also highlighted recent developments in economic ties, such as India-Japan Industrial Competitiveness Partnership (IJICP) and Clean Energy Partnership, among others.

Top executives of MNCs like Honda Motor Co, Toyota Motor Corporation, Suzuki Motor Corporation, Kawasaki Heavy Industries, Fujitsu, Nippon Steel Corporation, and Mitsubishi Corporation attended the meeting.

In his meeting with NEC Corporation chairman Nobuhira Endo, Modi appreciated NEC's role in India's telecommunication sector especially in undertaking Chennai-Andaman &Nicobar Islands and Kochi-Lakshadweep Islands projects. Similarly, he hailed SoftBank Corporation's role in startup sector.

From declaring the target of becoming Net-Zero till 2070 to initiating the International Solar Alliance, India is serious about working on a green future — Narendra Modi, Prime Minister

75 VANDE BHARAT TRAINS IN NEXT TWO YEARS?

RAJESH THAKUR @ New Delhi

A little over a year ahead of the next Parliamentary elections, the Union railway ministry is working overtime to roll out the sets of 75 new semi-high speed Vande Bharat Express trains. The trains will connect the national capital with other prominent rail sections.

Since Vande Bharat Express is envisioned by PM Narendra Modi – and a pride project of the Indian Railways - the BJP-led government may vie to leverage the project's outcomes.

"As a result, the railway ministry is working on a mission mode to rollout at least 75 Vande Bharat trains before the 2024 elections. The manufacturing unit at the integral coach factory (ICF) is working overnight to meet the deadline of August 2023 for rolling out the rakes of 75 new Vande Bharat express trains," a highly placed source in railway said.

As part of an all-out effort to meet the deadline, decidedly by August 2023, Union railway minister Ashwini Vaishnaw was in Chennai to conduct spot inspection of the ongoing production of Vande Bharat express coaches at the (ICF).

"The production of the Vande Bharat Express coaches are on the fast track," the minister had tweeted.

Besides, the prominent routes have almost been identified, the source said. "The first two prototypes of Vande Bharat rakes are being readied for commissioning by August 2022 before the final rollout of 75 new trains," the source said.

It has also been decided in principle to connect all prominent cities - and regions with it - of the country ahead of elections, as an answer to the criticism of lack of connectivity in many states. "Once state capitals are connected through the Vande Bharat trains, this would be like a dream come true to the people of every state", remarked a BJP leader.

At present, only the two rakes of Vande Bharat express trains are running on the New Delhi-Katra and the New Delhi-Varanasi routes.

Post Covid: No bedrolls in 500-plus trains

NEW DELHI: Even with Covid curbs lifted and most passenger train services resumed, the Railways is yet to bring back its linen service in over 594 express trains.

According to a source in the railways, the service has been restored in only 520 trains, including the premier Tejas Rajdhani trains. Prior to the pandemic, the service was available across 1,114 pairs of trains.

On the delay in restoration of the service in other trains, the source said that huge stocks of linen items were damaged during the last 2 years of suspension of the service. "Now, we have placed orders for more than 16 lakh new linen items. Soon after receiving the orders, the service will be restored in the remaining 594 trains," the source said, adding that curtains have been restored in the AC classes of 1,225 express trains.

Sources said that to restore the service, an odd 7.5 lakh packets of linen items are required daily.

On being asked, chief spokesperson of railway ministry, Rajiv Jain said that restoration of the linen service is going in full swing. ENS

Pre-Islamic heritage gets fund & focus in capital

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

TIME would travel in reverse if you were in Delhi's Mehrauli – where Qutub Minar is located. Of late, something good has happened there for history's revisionists as well as water conservationists. Take a trip down 1,000 years to know what is cheering up everyone in that corner of Delhi.

An otherwise parched Mehrauli has a lesser known historical place, Anang Taal – a pond said to have been built by Tomar King Anangpal-II. The King is supposed to be Delhi's granddaddy, the chief patron. Now the good news: The Delhi Development Authority is working on a comprehensive plan to clean and rejuvenate the water body to ensure regular water supply.

The DDA decision came three weeks after Union Minister of State for Culture Arjun Ram Meghwal visited the place. The National Monument Authority (NMA) has already drawn the attention of government agencies towards the dilapidation of the historical water body.

In the first phase, DDA will prevent sewage from being discharged into the pond. The agency will bring in heritage conservationists for the project. "The pond's main source of water was rain. Due to continued development activities, the catchment area has shrunk. We will check during the upcoming rainy season how much water it gets," says Rajeev Kumar Tiwari, principal commissioner (landscaping), DDA.

"We will approach the forest department for mandatory permission to remove the unwanted vegetation. As the site has heritage value, we'll have to consult conservation experts," said Tiwari.

According to historical references, the Anang Taal was 169 ft long and 152 ft wide. It had a depth of 40 ft. Syed Ahmad Khan, author of Asar us Sanadid, has written that water from this tank was used for making mortar for the construction of Alai Minar (unfinished minaret) in the Qutub Minar complex commissioned by Alauddin Khilji.

Shrinking work makes Miniratna a dull place

CHANDAN NANDY @ New Delhi

THE lack of orders for high-security passport booklets from the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) and lesser demand for coins from the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) have hit business at a government printing and minting agency.

While the Nashik-based India Security Press (ISP) has not received any indent for printing passport booklets in Financial Year (FY) 22-23, which will drastically hit its bottomline, the order for coins is only about 1,000 million pieces as compared to 8,000 million pieces three to four years ago.

In FY21-22, the government's four mints had received order for about 2,200 million pieces of coins.

According to sources in the Security Printing and Minting Corporation of India Ltd (SPMCIL), for the past few years, ISP's passport booklet printing business would fetch ₹500 crore annually, which is nearly 50 per cent of its total turnover.

But, the MEA has not requisitioned for passports this financial year as it is "sitting on about 80 lakh" stock of the booklets. In the past, the Ministry would requisition printing about 20-25 lakh passports annually.

Part of the reason for this glut is the Centre's move to introduce e-passports which will come with a micro-chip. "However, because of the MEA's indecision to issue another indent, orders for neither ordinary passport booklets nor e-passports has gone to ISP," the SPMCIL source said.

Barring a passport's first and last pages, the rest of the booklet is produced at ISP. The sources affirmed that from June, work at ISP will "reduce drastically".

The four mints, which were already running in losses, will service a small indent for only 1,000 million pieces of coins. The cumulative financial hit for SPMCIL is "in the region of ₹700 crore", the source said.

To add to the woes, the SPMCIL is functioning without a Director (Technical), who is responsible for all high-grade technical work, since February 28 last year.

A Director (Technical) was selected in July 2021 but a Central Vigilance Commission-monitored graft case against him forced the authorities to reject his appointment.

"With little or no work at the Nashik press, the senior management may have to go for drastic steps such as curtailing employees' overtime which is a healthy 33 per cent of their basic pay from June onwards," the source said.

SPMCIL, a unique setup

The SPMCIL has nine production units — 4 mints (in Hyderabad, Noida, Kolkata and Mumbai), 2 currency note presses, 2 security printing presses and 1 security paper mill. It is engaged in the manufacture of security paper, minting of coins, printing of currency and bank notes, etc.

However, because of the MEA's indecision to issue another indent, orders for neither ordinary passport booklets nor e-passports has gone to ISP — a source in SPPMCIL

US Super Hornets in India for offshore facility tests

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

AT the time India's Indigenous Aircraft Carrier (IAC) is in the advanced phase of sea trials, two US manufactured Boeing F/A-18 Super Hornets reached Goa on Monday for trials on the Indian Navy's Shore Based Test Facility (SBTF).

Confirming the news, sources said, "The aim of the sea trials is to demonstrate compatibility and suitability of the jets to operate from Indian aircraft carriers. The demonstration and trials will go on till June first week."

It was in January this year that a similar demonstration was carried out by the French Rafale-M (marine variant) at the SBTF. While the Rafale-Ms operate from French navy's nuclear powered aircraft carrier Charles de Gaulle, The US Navy has squadrons of the F/A 18 Super Hornets operating from its super carriers like the USS Nimitz and USS Ronald Reagan. The SBTF was created at Goa to replicate the aircraft carrier with a Ski Jump for take-off and arresting gear cable for arrested landing.

While India operates INS Vikramaditya with its air combat complement of MiG 29K, it will have to induct more maritime combat aircrafts not only for the IAC but also for its third aircraft carrier.

Gyanvapi: Varanasi court to decide fate of pleas today

District judge to decide the precedence of hearing multiple petitions

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Lucknow

A district court in Varanasi on Tuesday will decide which petition is to be heard first in the Gyanvapi mosque case transferred to it by the Supreme Court.

District Judge A K Vishvesh on Monday heard arguments from both the Hindu and Muslim sides.

The Muslim parties represented by Anjuman Intezamia Masajid (AIM) has challenged the maintainability of the suit seeking daily worship at Shringar Gauri Sthal, claiming that the Places of Worship Act, 1991, does not allow any petition in this connection as the Act protected the status of all religious structures as they stood on August 15, 1947.

The Hindu side has contended that without taking the survey report into account, the court can't decide the maintainability of the original petition as the nature of the religious structure is the subject matter of the dispute. It also argued that since a court-appointed commission has completed its work, the opponents should present their objections to it. However, AIM counsel said the writ is not sustainable and should be dismissed.

The court is expected to decide the maintainability of the petition seeking daily worship at the Shringar Gauri site, and whether to take the advocate commissioner's survey report of the mosque premises into account and invite objections to the same.

Meanwhile, a fresh plea seeking permission to worship the "Shivling" allegedly found during the survey ordered by a lower court has also been filed in the district court.

At present the petitions before the district court include the plea of a bunch of five women seeking daily worship of Shringar Gauri on Gaynvapi mosque premises, the AIM's plea challenging maintainability of the above petition, pleas seeking worship of 'Shivlinga' allegedly found in the wuzu khana during the survey, petition by state government to make alternative arrangement for wuzu, and a petition seeking further survey of western walls of the mosque.

Maintainability of first petition holds the key

The court is expected to decide the maintainability of the petition seeking daily worship at the Shringar Gauri site, and whether to take the advocate commissioner's survey report of the mosque premises into account and invite objections to the same. Assam politics heats up again over madrassa education

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR
@ Guwahati

A day after Assam Chief Minister Himanta Bisawa Sarma's statement against madrassa education, opposition parties in the state accused the CM of trying to "divert people's attention from the failures of his government".

"Ahead of elections, they (BJP) had promised to rid Assam of the problems of unemployment, illegal immigration, pollution and flood. Since they could fulfill none of these, they are talking about a madrassa-free Assam to divert people's attention," Assam Congress chief Bhupen Kumar Borah told this newspaper.

Speaking at an event in New Delhi on Sunday, Sarma had said: "As long as children are sent to the madrassas, they cannot become doctors and engineers. If children are told they will become only a 'janab' (Islamic cleric) by studying in a madrassa and not doctors and engineers, none of them will be willing to go there."

The CM also stated that there is no problem if children are taught the Quran but the "focus of education should be largely on science, mathematics, biology, botany, geology, etc. Hence, the madrassas should be abolished".

Lurinjyoti Gogoi, president of Asom Jatiya Parishad, said Sarma's statement had a "communal design" and he made it to be in the "good books of the RSS".

'Thana set afire by mob to destroy criminal records'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Guwahati

THE Assam police are near certain that Saturday's attack on the Batadrava police station in Nagaon was carried out by a mob to destroy criminal records of drug dealers, drug addicts, dacoits, etc.

In videos that went viral on social media, the assailants can be seen first setting fire to files and documents. In another, a woman is seen pouring fuel, suspected to be petrol, on a police two-wheeler and another woman setting fire to it.

Nagaon SP Leena Doley told journalists the houses of the accused were the dens of unlawful activities and they had suspicious movement of people. She said the villagers told the police the accused had criminal backgrounds. "One thing has clearly emerged from our investigation that the incident was not spontaneous but pre-planned. They came prepared to attack the police station and the personnel," the SP said.

The SP said the police requested the Nagaon district administration to conduct a survey in Batadrava and Dhing areas to find out if people were "unlawfully" settled there.

The police are also probing "jihadi angle" in the case.

Thackerays pay no heed to Rane's requests

Union minister Narayan Rane's eight-storey Juhu bungalow is in trouble due to CRZ violations and unauthorised construction. The local body BMC has issued multiple notices for demolitions. BMC has refused to regularise the illegal construction at the bungalow and may soon order its demolition. Though Rane tried to backchannel Maharashtra CM Uddhav Thackeray to save his bungalow, all efforts have been in vain so far. Earlier, Thackeray had helped win approvals for Rane's medical college, but later Rane made some wild allegations in connection with Disha Salin case against Aaditya Thackeray. Therefore, the Thackeray family had decided to distance itself from Rane despite his conciliation efforts.

RS poll: Will Praful Patel join BJP?

In the Rajya Sabha poll, out of total six seats, it is believed that NCP can wrest at least one seat with ease. Outgoing Rajya Sabha MP and senior NCP leader Praful Patel is likely to be re-nominated by the NCP chief Sharad Pawar again. However, within the party there is buzz that the former is not active since some months and has bit been present for party activities. Therefore, there is speculation that he is trying for a smooth exit from NCP and eventually move into the BJP fore. On the other hand, the saffron party will contest in two seats – while one candidate has been named the second one is yet to be announced. Whether this seat has been set aside for Praful Patel that only time will tell.

Looking to better social clout: Raj Thackeray

MNS chief Raj Thackeray was always lean like Shiv Sena supremo late Balasaheb Thackeray and never put on weight. At the release of bariatrics pioneer Dr Sanjay Borude's book 'Generation XL' – on child obesity – Thackeray revealed that his weight was 65 kg for 35 years, and now at 83 kg. He said he cannot play sports otherwise he used to play cricket, badminton and table tennis. As a result, he has decided to cut down on bodily fat and better in social weight. Raj Thackeray started as a promising leader by winning 13 MLA, 27 corporators in BMC, and coming in power in Nashik corporation. But since the last two assembly elections, his party did not win more than one seat therefore he wants to better his social weight.

Sidhu examined by medical board after diet issues in Patiala prison

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chandigarh

THREE days after being lodged in Patiala Central Jail in a three-decade old road rage case, former Punjab Congress president Navjot Sidhu was on Monday medically examined at the Rajindra Hospital in Patiala amid tight security.

Sources said Sidhu has been having only boiled vegetables from the jail canteen as he is allergic to wheat. After Sidhu's counsel brought his health issues to notice, a local court directed the authorities to take the jailed politician for medical examination. Sidhu suffers from embolism — a blocked artery caused by a foreign body. The report of the medical board will be submitted to the court.

Counsel HPS Verma said Sidhu can't consume wheat, sugar, maida and some other food items due to certain medical conditions. "He (Sidhu) can have berries, papaya, guava, double-toned milk and food items which do not have fibre and carbohydrates. The board of doctors will see what special diet is required and submit its report to the court," he said.

A few Congress supporters reached the hospital after Sidhu was brought there.

Protests mark UP Assembly inaugural session; Yogi warns unruly legislators

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE first session of the 18th Legislative Assembly of Uttar Pradesh had a fiery start on Monday after Samajwadi Party MLAs thronged the well with placards and slogans on various issues during Governor Anandiben Patel's customary address.

As soon as the governor stood up to deliver her address, SP MLAs started shouting slogans and raising placards over issues related to law and order, farmers, stray cattle and crime against women. The governor's address got sunk in the din and furor. The Assembly was adjourned till 11 am on Tuesday.

This is the first session of Yogi Adityanath government's second tenure and the state government is slated to present its first budget of the second term on May 26.

While going to the House to attend the proceedings, Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath sought support of all members in smooth conduct of the Houses and promised discussion on all the issues related to public cause. "I welcome and greet all the honorable members. The session starts today (Monday). It begins with the governor's speech. This is a tradition. I say with confidence that the manner in which the governor's guidance is being received, the House will be able to proceed smoothly," said the CM.

Adityanath further said any question or issue received by the Assembly Secretariat under the right rules will be answered by the government. However, the CM cautioned against unruly behaviour saying any conduct which would be against the etiquette of the House will not be "tolerated".

The legislators were seen in saffron, red, blue, green and yellow cap and scarves depending upon the signature colour of their respective parties. While the ruling BJP MLAs were seen in saffron caps, the SP MLAs had shown up in red caps. Members of the RLD had green scarves while six SBSP MLAs were in yellow.

Ally flays SP MLAs violating 'House decorum'

Lucknow: Taking a line contrary to the House strategy of his ally Samajwadi Party, Suheldev Bharatiya Samaj Party (SBSP) chief OP Rajbhar, opposed the behaviour of SP MLAs who resorted to sloganeering and protests inside the Assembly during the joint address of the governor. The SBSP chief said his MLAs did not take part in the protests as he found it against the decorum during the governor's address. "This is unbecoming of them. This culture is not good. My MLAs didn't take part in the unruly protests as we don't believe in such practices," he said. ENS

RS POLLS: SENA SAYS SORRY TO SHIVAJI'S DESCENDANT

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

IT'S official: Shiv Sena won't shift its reverence for Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj to his descendant for the sixth Rajya Sabha seat from Maharashtra. The Sena's condition remains unchanged: Chhatrapati Sambhaji will have to join the party, for which the former BJP MP remains non-committal.

With this, the prospect of Sambhaji Maharaj's entry to the Upper House as an Independent could be bleak.

Sambhaji met CM Uddhav Thackeray on Monday and informed him about his preference for Independent candidature. The Sena struck down his demand.

Party spokesperson Sanjay Raut asserted that as the party's state Assembly strength, it would get two seats in the Rajya Sabha out of the total six. "We are going to win both seats. We are ready to extend our support to Sambhaji Maharaj but the condition is that he should contest as a Sena nominee. We will not support him as an independent. We are not against Sambhaji Maharaj. We respect the chair of Chhatrapati, but the elections and politics are different," said Raut.

NCP chief Sharad Pawar said that as part of "alliance dharma", the party would support a candidate nominated by Shiv Sena. He said that in the last Rajya Sabha polls, NCP had nominated two for Rajya Sabha. "Shiv Sena had additional votes and they extended support to our second candidate. That time, we had promised them that in the next RS polls, NCP will extend its support to Sena's candidate. We'll do that now," Pawar said.

Sources said that after giving up on Sambhaji Maharaj, Shiv Sena will field its own candidate for the sixth seat. Among the likely nominees are actress Urmila Matondkar and Chandakant Khair. A section in the Sena has demanded nomination for a party candidate from rural areas. State Congress chief Nana Patole said his party would decide its stance after meeting the CM. The polls are meant to fill vacancies caused by six retiring members.

We are going to win both seats. We are ready to extend our support to Sambhaji Maharaj but the condition is that he should contest as a Sena nominee. We will not support him as an independent

Ahead of Gujarat poll, BJP identifies AAP as key challenger in tribal areas

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

IF BJP sources are to be believed, the party's Gujarat unit appears more concerned about AAP's tactic and searching posers than the Congress, which is seen as divided from the top.

Top BJP leaders – Home Minister Amit Shah and party general secretary (organisation) BL Santosh — joined a party huddle Monday and discussed the challenges for the forthcoming Assembly election.

The party feedback, sources said, focused on the social media projection of the AAP, people's perception about Arvind Kejriwal and his ability to understand Gujarat's caste equations. The AAP has allied with Bharatiya Tribal Party (BTP) and has asked tribal communities to list what BJP has done for them. Sources said soon the BJP would go to the tribals and inform them of the measures the party has taken since 1990.

"From Keshubhai Patel to Bhupendra Patel, our government has worked for the people. In today's meeting, we decided that we'd go door-to-door to our people and show them what our government has done for them," said state party chief CR Patil.

On the lines of UP election, the BJP would form a Page Committee to reach out to voters. "It is the best medium. More than 60 lakh members have joined the party through the Page Committee," Patil said. "It is important to be active on social media," said Patil, adding every party member should spread a word about government works.

Former MP minister's son goes on drunken rampage

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

FORMER MP minister and senior Congress MLA Hukum Singh Karada's son, in an inebriated state, allegedly went on a rampage on the Bhopal-Indore highway on Sunday night. Rohitap Singh Karada, who was reportedly driving an SUV, hit the car of an Indore-based businessman. When the passengers in the businessman's car stepped out, they reportedly saw the former minister's son seated on the driver's seat in a drunken state. Just when they were asking him to come to the local police station, Karada again dashed the car with his SUV from behind.

Anil Yadav, in-charge of Ashtha police station, said a case has been lodged against the unidentified driver of the SUV. A search of the registration number in the transport department website revealed that the SUV was owned by one Rohitap Singh Karada. While Hukum Singh couldn't be contacted over phone, Rohitap was quoted in local media as claiming that it was his vehicle which was damaged by others.

Russian, 21, sentenced to life for war crimes

Ukraine seals 1st conviction against Moscow since invasion began; western support forces Moscow to set limited goals

KYIV

A Kyiv court sentenced a 21-year-old Russian soldier to life in prison on Monday for killing a Ukrainian civilian, sealing the first guilty conviction for war crimes since Moscow's invasion three months ago.

Sgt. Vadim Shishimarin pleaded guilty to shooting a Ukrainian civilian in the head in a village in the northeastern Sumy region in the early days of the war.

He testified that he shot the man after being ordered to do so. He told the court that an officer insisted that the Ukrainian man, who was speaking on his cellphone, could pinpoint their location to the Ukrainian forces.

The sentencing came as the 3-month-old war helped push the number of people displaced worldwide to the highest level on record level, according to the United Nations, with more than 100 million people driven from their homes across the globe. More than six million people have fled Ukraine and eight million have been internally displaced since the war broke out, according to the United Nations.

On the battlefield, Russian forces have stepped up shelling in Ukraine's eastern industrial heartland as they press their offensive in the region that is now the focus of fighting.

Grinding battles in the Donbas, where Ukrainian and Russian forces are fighting town by town, have forced many civilians to flee their homes.

Kremlin slams 'terror attack' on Ukraine's pro-Moscow official

Moscow: The Kremlin on Monday accused Ukrainian nationalists of carrying out a "terror attack" against an official installed by Moscow in southern Ukraine. Andrey Shevchik was appointed as mayor of Energodar in the Zaporizhzhia region after Russian troops took control of the town. On Sunday, Shevchik and his guards were wounded in an explosion. Ukrainian "nati-onalist elements are using such methods," said Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov. AFP

US President Joe Biden on Monday signed legislation granting Ukraine $40 billion more in US support for its defense against the Russian attack.

Western support 'both financial and military 'has been key to Ukraine's defense, helping their outgunned and outnumbered forces to repel Russia's attempt to take the capital of Kyiv and fight them to a standstill in other places. In the face of those setbacks, Moscow has outlined more limited goals in Ukraine, with its sights now on trying to expand the territory that Russia-backed separatists have held since 2014.

Ukrainian forces dug in around Sievierodonetsk, the main city under Ukrainian control in the Luhansk province of the Donbas, as Russia intensified efforts to capture it. Gov. Serhiy Haidai accused the Russians of 'simply intentionally trying to destroy the city ... engaging in a scorched-earth approach.'

Haidai said on Sunday that the Russians had occupied several towns and cities in Luhansk after indiscriminate, 24-hour shelling and concentrating forces and weaponry there, bringing in troops from Kharkiv to the northwest, Mariupol to the south, and from inside Russia. AP/ AFP

'Send us more weapons, stop Russia trade'

DAVOS

UKRAINIAN President Volodymyr Zelenskyy used the Davos summit on Monday to appeal for more weapons and "maximum" sanctions against Russia, lamenting that tens of thousands of lives would have been saved had countries acted faster. Appearing by video link, Zelenskyy delivered the headline speech to the first World Economic Forum to be held in the Swiss Alps in more than two years after the Covid pandemic derailed the event.

The conflict shows "that support to the country under attack is more valuable the sooner it is provided: weapons, funding, political support and sanctions against Russia," said Zelensky, who received a standing ovation. "If we would have received them by 100% of ours needs at once back in February, the result would have been tens of thousands of lives saved," said Zelenskyy, flanked by Ukrainian flags and wearing an olive-green T-shirt. AFP

US prez warns China against invading Taiwan, vows military defence

TOKYO

PRESIDENT Joe Biden vowed on Monday that US forces would defend Taiwan militarily if China attempted to take control of the self-ruled island by force, warning Beijing was already "flirting with danger".

The remarks, made in Tokyo where he is meeting with Japan's prime minister ahead of a regional summit on Tuesday, were Biden's strongest to date on the issue and come amid rising tensions over China's growing economic and military power. Washington and allies like Japan have framed their tough response to Russia's invasion of Ukraine as a warning to others, especially China, against unilateral military action.

Biden hammered that message home after talks with Japanese Prime Minister Fumio Kishida in which the pair agreed to monitor Chinese naval activity and joint Chinese-Russia exercises.

Biden then went further. Asked if Washington was willing to get involved militarily to defend Taiwan, he replied: "Yes." "That's the commitment we made," he added.

"We agreed with the One China policy, we signed on to it... but the idea that it can be taken by force is just not appropriate, it would dislocate the entire region and would be another action similar to Ukraine," Biden said. Biden directly linked the fates of Ukraine and Taiwan, saying Western sanctions on Russia must exact a "long-term price" because otherwise "what signal does that send to China about the cost of attempting to take Taiwan by force?"

He warned Beijing was already "flirting with danger right now by flying so close and all the manoeuvres undertaken" — referring to a growing number of Chinese sorties, naval exercises and other power projections in the Taiwan Straits. In Beijing, foreign ministry spokesman Wang Wenbin swiftly responded, declaring that "no one should underestimate the firm resolve, staunch will and strong ability of the Chinese people in defending national sovereignty and territorial integrity."

"China has no room for compromise or concession," the spokesman said. AFP

China says US 'playing with fire' on Taiwan

Beijing: The United States is "playing with fire," the Chinese State Council's Taiwan Affairs Office said Monday, after President Joe Biden vowed to defend the self-ruled island in the event Beijing attempts to take control, state media reported. The United States is "using the 'Taiwan card' to contain China, and will itself get burned," said Zhu Fenglian, a spokeswoman for the office. State outlet Xinhua said Zhu "urged the United States to stop any remarks or actions" that violate previously established principles between the two countries. AFP

Lanka's ruling party objects to amendment to curb prez's power

Colombo: In a major blow to Sri Lanka's new PM Ranil Wickremesinghe, the proposal for the 21st Amendment to the Constitution to curb the unfettered powers of President Gotabaya Rajapaksa, scheduled to be referred to the Cabinet on Monday was not presented before it. According to sources, the proposal was not presented in the cabinet after parliamentarians of the ruling Sri Lanka Podujana Peramuna objected to it in its present form. They demanded that the proposed legislation be approved by the Attorney General before referring it to the Cabinet. The 21st Amendment is expected to annul the 20A which gave unlimited powers to Gotabaya after abolishing the 19th Amendment which had made Parliament powerful over the president. The constitutional reform was a major plank of the agreement between Rajapaksa and Wickremesinghe when he took over the job of the prime minister on May 12. Rajapaksa had pledged reforms in the Constitution in an address to the nation earlier this month. The 21st Amendment would make it impossible for those with dual citizenship to hold a seat in Parliament. President Rajapaksa had relinquished his US citizenship in April 2019 before contesting the presidential elections. PTI

Jet Airways, which recently received its flying licence revalidated by the aviation regulator DGCA, is aiming to start commercial operations in the July-September quarter. On Monday, Jet also made key hirings

On Monday, Jet made key hirings, including the appointment of Mark Turner as vice-president – in-flight product and services. He re-joins the airline after previously leading in-flight services for Jet Airways in 2008-11.

The airline has also appointed veterans such as Prabh Sharan Singh as chief digital officer, HR Jagannath as vice-president – engineering and Vishesh Khanna as vice-president – sales, distribution, and customer engagement.

The Naresh Goyal-founded Jet Airways had stopped flying in April 2019 and was acquired by a consortium of Murari Jalan and Kalrock Capital under the bankruptcy proceeding in 2020. Since then it has been trying to make a comeback. These airlines are entering Indian skies at a time when air traffic has seen significant improvement after bleeding for two years due to covid-19 pandemic. Currently, domestic air traffic has reached to pre-covid level of 4 lakh/day departing passengers.

Q4 NET LOSS OF ZOMATO WIDENS TO ₹360 CRORE

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

FOOD delivery platform Zomato on Monday reported a net loss of ₹360 crore in the fourth quarter ended March 31, 2022.

Its net loss during the same quarter of the last fiscal stood at ₹134 crore. Its consolidated revenue from operations in the quarter stood at ₹1,212 crore, which is a 75% jump compared to ₹692 crore in Q4 FY21.

Its adjusted EBITDA loss reduced to ₹220 crore in the fourth quarter compared to ₹270 crore in the previous quarter. The company's average monthly transacting customers were at an all-time high of 15.7 million.

Its gross order value grew by 6% Q-o-Q and 77% Y-o-Y to ₹5,850 crore in Q4FY22. This was driven by healthy growth in order volumes. Zomato's average order value (AOV) for FY22 was ₹398 and for the top 8 cities, the food order delivery platform saw the AOV increase by 3% in FY22 over FY21.

₹220 cr
Zomato's adjusted EBITDA loss fell to ₹220 crore

The company sees significant potential to optimise delivery costs through better utilisation of its fleet. "We are working toward bringing down the delivery cost per order while increasing delivery partners' EPH (Earnings per Hour) and enhancing customer experience at the same time," Zomato CEO Deepinder Goyal said.

Talking about an acute shortage of gig workers, Goyal said they are seeing some stress on the availability of delivery partners in the current quarter in select cities since the last week of April. "We think this is short-term in nature. The workforce, which migrated to their hometowns during the first COVID wave, hasn't yet come back to the cities for work – thus hampering our delivery partner acquisition rate," he added.

Zomato on Monday made it clear that it is not planning for any more minority equity investments at this stage. The platform had made seven investments in FY22.

'Bullish on quick commerce'

Goyal also said that they remain bullish on quick commerce. The company has invested in Blinkit, and also provided a short-term loan of up to $150 million to fund its capital needs.

In the last quarter, Zomato said that it would invest $400 million in quick commerce.

CAIT urges govt to act on e-pharma cos for discounts

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Confederation of All India Traders (CAIT) on Monday alleged that e-pharmacies are conducting business practices in contravention of provisions of The Drug & Cosmetics Act, 1940.

It said that primarily Pharmeasy, Medlife, 1Mg, Netmeds (now owned by Reliance Group), Amazon and Flipkart are misusing the e-commerce landscape by operating on rock bottom prices with 30%-40% discount and free shipping.

"It's a case of capital dumping in these e-pharmacies by foreign behemoths, which is proving extremely detrimental to the future of the lakhs of crores of small chemists across the Country," it said.

CAIT national President BC Bhartia & secretary general Praveen Khandelwal said mushrooming of e-pharmacy is causing hardships to the retail chemists and distributors for anti-competitive practices like capital dumping and deep discounting, leading to predatory pricing.

"E-pharmacies with their financial backing by large foreign players/funds have started disrupting brick and mortar retailers due to the unmatched and often unsustainable pricing."

They added that the sale of prescription drugs and medicines through online mediums is illegal. "The legal regime, under Drugs & Cosmetics Act, 1940, does not permit home delivery of prescription medicines for which a prescription "in original" is required."

Bhartia & Khandelwal said predatory pricing is done with the sole intention of eliminating the competition.

CAIT demanded intervention of government saying, "e-pharmacy has become another trade which is being targeted by these companies to capture and monopolise at the cost of lakhs of chemists and medicine traders."

RBI: Saying rate be hiked to pre-Covid level is premature

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE RBI will continue to raise the repo rate to quell inflationary pressures but saying it would be hiked to the pre-Covid levels is premature, RBI governor Shaktikanta Das said during an interview to a news channel.

"There will be some increase .... by how much I will not be able to say now," he said during an interview to CNBC-TV 18 channel. He termed expectations of a rate hike a "no-brainer."

The RBI hiked the repo rate by 40 bps (0.4 percentage) earlier this month ahead of the April CPI print, which came in at an eight year high of 7.79%, driven by surging fuel and food prices.

Citing that the central government's cut in excise duty on petrol and diesel would have a "sobering" impact on inflation, RBI governor Shaktikanta Das said in the interview that India had entered into another phase of coordinated action between fiscal and monetary authorities on inflation.

The central government cut the excise duty by ₹8 per litre on petrol and by ₹6 a litre on diesel over the weekend to reduce the impact of rising inflation on the common man.

RBi also said that the rate action in May was taken to avoid much stronger action at the June meeting.

The off -cycle hike on May 4 caused a jump in financial market volatility, with brokerages like Emkay anticipating MPC to hike the repo rate by 25-50 bps at its June 6-8 meeting.

Governor Das also added that liquidity would be brought down in a phased and calibrated manner. During the May 4 meet MPC also raised the CRR by 50 bps, sucking out ₹87,000 crore of excess liquidity from the financial markets.

On the rupee, he said that RBI's stated position was to prevent excessive volatility in the local unit.

The rupee has fallen 6.4% to the dollar from 72.81 on May 21 last year to 77.51 intraday May 23. The local unit has seen headwinds due to a rise in crude, which is India's largest imported item, and FII sales of Indian equities and debt in the current fiscal year (FY23).

FRL ind directors ignored irregularities: Amazon

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

IN a fresh attack on Future Retail Ltd (FRL), US retail giant Amazon has accused FRL independent directors of deliberately overlooking irregularities committed by Future Group and the promoter family.

In a letter written to the independent directors on May 19, the US e-commerce firm said the independent directors deliberately ignored several red flags raised by it and failed to acknowledge the existence of those issues.

"You, as independent directors of FRL, failed to discharge even your primary function to act as gatekeepers and custodians for inter alia the public shareholders of FRL," the letter reads.

The letter further says that independent directors have failed to take any actions to prevent the fraud, and rather aided and abetted FRL to violate the binding injunctions and orders of courts. The letter lists a number of alleged frauds committed and false promises made to lenders by FRL and its promoter Biyanis. Amazon claims in the letter the narrative spread by FRL that it allowed taking over of its 835 retail stores due to FRL's failure to pay huge rent is false and sham. On February 26 this year, RIL took over the stores on grounds that FRL failed to meet retail obligations on the same.

Amazon insinuates that if FRL could on February 18 pay $14 million as interest to its bondholders, it could very well have paid the rent of the stores. It has termed the 'purported handover of retail assets of FRL (to Reliance) as an intentional fraudulent action in furtherance of the stratagem to alienate the retail stores, without following the rule of law.'

It has asked the independent directors to cease acting for the benefit of the promoters and act in accordance with the statutory duties and obligations to protect the interest of FRL, its creditors, shareholders, employees and investors.

Lewandowski's agent confirms striker wants to leave Bayern

Robert Lewandowski's agent Pini Zahavi has made it clear the Polish striker wants to leave Bayern Munich, amid reports Barcelona have made an offer. "For Robert, things are very clear: he wants to leave FC Bayern this summer," Zahavi told German daily Bild. Lewandowski has already said he wants to leave Bayern, where he has a year left on his contract.

Deliberate attempts to hide injury: TOPS CEO

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

ARE elite athletes hiding injuries? Going by a Sports Authority of India letter, yes, at least some. That too after sports ministry had launched a centralised injury tracking and management system that was aimed at monitoring even physiological and anthropometric development. According to the letter by TOPS chief executive officer Pushpendra Kumar Garg, athletes are hiding injuries.

In a move to curb such instances, the sports ministry had launched the Central Athlete Injury Management System (CAIMS) last year to help athletes in their rehabilitation and progress. Another objective was to minimise instances of injured athletes participating in international meets. The project was first aimed at monitoring Target Olympics Podium (TOP) Scheme athletes. At present there are 104 athletes in core and 244 in the development group. According to the letter written to all TOPS athletes, Garg said that: "it has come to the notice of the undersigned (TOPS CEO) that the TOP Scheme athletes are not fully utilizing the services under CAIMS. Further more in certain cases deliberate attempts to hide injury has come to the light. The matter is being taken up seriously."

Monitoring athletes if they do not register in the CAIMS would mean they can hoodwink authorities. There have been instances when medical checks are conducted on athletes who are going abroad for participating in international competitions. The letter dated May 19, also advised all athletes to use CAIMS facilities. "You are advised to utilize the services under CAIMS. In case of injury, you are to first connect with your respective Athlete Relationship Manager (ARM), who will guide you through the seamless and hassle-free injury management process under CAIMS. Under no circumstances, any TOPS athlete may hide his/her injury and is requested to report it immediately to his ARM for information, even when no intervention is being sought under CAIMS."

In a January report in this daily, the Mission Olympic Cell had decided to put the TOP Scheme development group athletes through medical tests during induction and at least twice a year. The results would be tied with the CAIMS. The system was launched in 2021 "... as a referral-based injury and illness management system catering to athletes under TOP Scheme programme training at various locations. The mandate covers the entire gamut of injury management including prevention, diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation."

There have been occasions when athletes hide injury and compete in not just domestic but also international meets.

Royal clash of the Titans

Gujarat Titans topped the table but Rajasthan Royals may well fancy their chances in the first qualifier on Tuesday. A look at the match-up...

EYES ON GILL

Gujarat went that bit extra to get Shubman Gill before the auction but he's under-punched a touch. After that early impetus, he has made four single-digit scores in his last nine innings. In a side that has struggled for big runs from the top, it's imperative that he rediscovers that early touch.

Chahal is the leading wicket-taker with 26 — 26

Buttler has hit 37 sixes so far — 37

MILLER AGAINST CHAHAL & ASHWIN

One reason why the Titans topped the table is because of the southpaw's consistency in the middle-order (381 runs at 54.43 while striking at 136.07). He's become a better batter against spin, too. How he handles Yuzvendra Chahal and Ravichandran Ashwin could set the game up for either side.

RR TOP-ORDER VS RASHID/ SHAMI

Jos Buttler has come down to earth after an otherworldly first half of the campaign. On Tuesday, he will up against Mohammed Shami, still one of the best wicket-taking specialists in terms of taking wickets. Considering he likes to get his eye in before exploding in the back end, he will have to deal with Rashid Khan as well.

PANDYA, THE FINISHER

After earning a recall into the Indian set-up, Pandya can perhaps play that bit more freely. He has played in multiple positions this year and the reward for that is topping the scoring charts for his team. The Royals pace-attack is extremely front-loaded so there aren't many death overs specialists. Pandya could well have some fun.

CONTRASTING BATTING APPROACHES

Three Royals batters (Sanju Samson, Jos Buttler and Shimron Hetmyer) are in the top 10 for leading six-hitters this season. Titans have one in the top-38 (Miller). This is a fair reflection of how both teams have approached proceedings with the bat. Considering 80 per cent of all T20 matches are decided by the side that hits the most sixes, one to keep an eye on.

Osaka ousted, Nadal sails into Round 2

AFP @ Paris

NAOMI Osaka lost in the first round of the French Open on Monday, 12 months after controversially quitting the tournament, while women's title favourite Iga Swiatek stretched her winning streak to 29 matches. Rafael Nadal began his pursuit of a record-extending 14th title with a 6-2, 6-2, 6-2 victory over Australian World No 82 Jordan Thompson.

Fifth seed Nadal, who could meet Novak Djokovic in the quarterfinals, improved his Roland Garros record to 106 wins and just three losses since his 2005 title-winning debut. "I'm very happy with the victory today. I'm happy to get through in three sets," said Nadal, seeded outside the top four in Paris for just the second time in his career. Osaka, a four-time Grand Slam champion, was knocked out 7-5, 6-4 by American 27th seed Amanda Anisimova — the same player who ended the Japanese star's title defence at the Australian Open this year. An error-plagued Osaka served up eight double faults and committed 29 unforced errors on her return to Roland Garros, after withdrawing in 2021 when she refused to honour mandatory media commitments before revealing she had been suffering from depression.

"It's tough to see Naomi Osaka in the first round so I knew it wouldn't be easy," said Anisimova, who reached the semifinals in Paris three years ago.

SELECT RESULTS (ROUND 1)

Men: Rafael Nadal bt Jordan Thompson 6-2, 6-2, 6-2, Corentin Moutet bt Stan Wawrinka 2-6, 6-3, 7-6 (2), 6-3; Filip Krajinovic bt Reilly Opelka 7-6 (7/5), 6-2, 6-3; Women: Iga Swiatek bt Lesia Tsurenko 6-2, 6-0, Amanda Anisimova bt Naomi Osaka 7-5, 6-4; Victoria Azarenka bt Ana Bogdan 6-7 (7), 7-6 (1), 6-2.

TUESDAY'S MATCHES (SELECT)

Men: Facundo Bagnis vs Daniil Medvedev, Lorenzo Musetti vs Stefanos Tsitsipas. Women: Simona Halep vs Natasja Schunk, Paulo Badosa vs Fiona Ferro.

Supernovas pack a punch against Trailblazers

GOMESH S @ Chennai

AS the last edition of the Women's T20 Challenge — that's the expectation — began in Pune with Smriti Mandhana's Trailblazers facing Harmanpreet Kaur's Supernovas, there was one key difference from previous editions. Because of the pandemic, the senior T20 league took place just a couple of weeks before the T20 Challenge. It was the perfect platform for the players to show their potential. And they shone, especially the batters. The stand out stat from the tournament was that as many as 16 batters had struck at over 125 while scoring more than 100 runs.

On Monday, Harmanpreet hit 37 runs, helping the team post 163 in 20 overs. In reply, Mandhana and Matthews started off in a very similar fashion. However, Pooja Vastrakar took four wickets for just 12 runs as Trailblazers scrapped their way to 114/9, losing by 49 runs. Brief scores: Supernovas 163 in 20 ovs (Harmanpreet 37; Matthews 3/29) bt Trailblazers 114/9 in 20 ovs (Mandhana 34; Vastrakar 4/12).

Asia cup: Pakistan strike late to hold India in opening tie

ENS @ Chennai

WITH less than 80 seconds on the clock, Pakistan kept their wits about themselves to ensure they didn't lose their opening Asia Cup tie against in India in Jakarta on Monday. A much-changed Indian side — as many as 10 players were handed senior caps for the first time — took the lead via S Karthi's deflected penalty corner in the 9th minute and looked like they had just done enough to hang on to that lead. That was before Abdul Rana poked home from close range after India failed to clear a penalty corner.

With both sides opting to play youthful sides — India, of course, have officially come with their 'A' side — the quality on display wasn't always great. There were lot of mistraps and passes were routinely underhit or overcooked. Pakistan, for whom this is an important tournament as they have to finish in the top three to qualify for next year's World Cup in India, did eventually find their bearings even if they wasted multiple set-pieces as they failed to trap injections.

Results: Malaysia 7-0 Oman, South Korea 6-1 Bangladesh, Japan 9-0 Indonesia, India 1-1 Pakistan. Tuesday's matches: Oman vs Bangladesh, Pakistan vs Indonesia, South Korea vs Malaysia, India vs Japan.

"WHAT HATH GOD WROUGHT"
WAS SENT FROM THE CAPITOL IN WASHINGTON TO BALTIMORE MAY 24, 1844 OVER WIRES LAID ALONG THE RIGHT OF WAY OF THE B&O RAILROAD ADJACENT TO THIS HIGHWAY. THE TELEGRAPH WAS INVENTED BY SAMUEL F.B. MORSE (1791-1872).

DAY'S DIARY

Morse electric telegram

Samuel F B Morse electrically transmitted his famous message "What hath God wrought?" from Washington to Baltimore on this day in 1844

SETTING UP A LAB

In April 1844, Morse set up a small lab in a committee room in the Senate wing of the Capitol, across from the Old Supreme Court chamber

A QUICK RESPONSE

After weeks of testing, Morse gathered a small group to send the first message. Moments later, an identical message was returned from Vail in Baltimore

FAME BURIED

In the decades after his death in 1872, Morse's fame as an inventor was obscured by the invention of the telephone, radio, television, and the Internet

Setting stage

This city girl, now in Los Angeles, is creating the sets for an upcoming Disney film, The Santa Clause

ISHRATH MUBEEN

CLOTHES, makeup, creative camera angles, sound and editing...these are just a few of the elements that go into the making a film. Set design is one such aspect that is frequently overlooked during the credits, believes Harshita Reddy, a Bengalurean, who is currently based in Los Angeles. The set designer and assistant art director has got a few opportunities to work in Hollywood productions, including an upcoming Disney film, The Santa Clause. In the series, which is to release in December this year, she is creating the drawings of Santa Claus' house in the North Pole.

"When I put pen to paper, I need to know how my design is practically achievable. I end up spending a lot of time with the construction department figuring out how to make my crazy ideas come to life," says the art director. Reddy believes that having the skills to work as a set designer as well as an art director was what led her to land a Netflix show, one of her first big projects, called The Woman in the House Across The Street From The Girl in The Window, starring Kristen Bell, a few months ago. "I worked as the lead set designer alongside the production designer and created the house of the lead character," adds the architect from the BMS College of Engineering.

Harshita Reddy on the sets of Our Flag Means Death

Although Reddy's dad is a movie buff, he was not very convinced about her interests. "Initially my parents thought this was an unconventional career. To comfort them, I decided to study architecture. I believed it could eventually take me to where I want," says Reddy, who after graduation, moved to Hyderabad where she assisted event managers in creating wedding sets. A few months later in 2017, she enrolled for a two-year programme at the American Film Institute Conservatory (AFI).

Reddy recollects that one of her best works was with Oscar-nominated production designer Ra Vincent, who has worked on films like The Lord of the Rings, Thor and JoJo Rabbit. As a set designer, she was required to create the main deck of the hero pirate ship. "I worked with him on a pirate comedy show Our Flag Means Death. It is not very often that you get to build pirate ships for a 30-minute comedy in Hollywood, so it was very exciting," says Reddy, who started as a researcher and then went onto become a set designer.

Supriya Shenoy (in black) along with other parkour enthusiasts

A few months ago, 29-year-old Vinay Bhupal, an IT professional, was going through various videos on freestyle movement when he came across a bunch of people making extreme fluid movements. Bhupal found the style interesting and after further research, found out that the movement is called parkour. Parkour is an athletic training where practitioners attempt to get from point A to point B in the most fluid way either by jumping, climbing or rolling.

Watching that video reminded Bhupal of a scene from any action movie. "The people in the video were so swift. They were jumping from one building to another in a certain way. It looked like a scene straight out of an action movie. But the movement didn't look like something I'd ever seen. There was a certain technique they were following," says Bhupal, adding that he has been practising parkour now for the past three months.

The popularity of this training style has gone up among Bengalureans, after tinseltown actors Akshay Kumar and Tiger Shroff have taken to it. Delson Joy D'Souza, who is one of the instructors at the Chaos Faktory, a training centre, says it's a special training that many actors opt for when they take up projects. "For certain roles, actors need to not just be fit but also agile. So this training works as one of the best routines. Not just actors, even dancers who are into free movement also prefer this," says D'Souza, who has trained actors like Yuva Rajkumar, Raghavendra Rajkumar's son. D'Souza takes weekday and weekend classes, charging ₹4,000 per month. "The minimum duration of the training is two months. We keep this duration as it takes that much time for changes to be seen on the body," explains D'Souza, adding that usually for parkour training, one needs an open space rather than gym equipment.

Another reason for the popularity of this training method, as D'Souza mentions, is its ability to break the monotony of regular workout routines. Supriya Shenoy, a practitioner, could not agree more. "Parkour is quite popular abroad. Sometimes you get inspired from someone or you see some influencer doing it, because it looks very appealing. I wanted to improve my form and increase my strength and tried parkour from videos on Instagram," says Shenoy, an IT professional. A fitness-lover herself, she always wanted to learn it two years ago, but due to Covid, had to postpone her plans and started being coached from March this year.

Deepu MP, who has been practising parkour for the past 10 years and has also started coaching others, feels that people have tried this at one point or the other. "As children, we have crossed fences, hopped and done some climbing. But there was no technique to it. The best part is you have fun while doing it, and fitness becomes a byproduct," explains Deepu, adding that this routine also gives one a sense of overcoming obstacles.

For certain roles, actors need to not just be fit but also agile. So this training works as one of the best routines — Delson Joy D'Souza, trainer

FIT BIT

SUPTA TADASANA

(RECLINED MOUNTAIN POSE)

It is a beginner-level, grounding yoga pose performed in supine position. It is a stepping stone to a deeper consciousness and meditative practices. It awakens the breath-body awareness in a person. It means observing the body in stillness and being aware of the body alignment. The seven chakras are balanced in this pose. The prana is floating, and the energy is calm. The breath automatically happens from the thoracic region because the core is firm.

STEPS

- Lie on the mat with feet touching a wall for support.
- The whole back of the body feels the mat and connects to the earth in this pose.
- Align the legs such that the toes and the heels of both the legs are near each other. Press the ball of the foot and the heel into the wall.
- This straightens the legs and consciously aligns the chin near the neck. Firm the thighs down to engage the legs' muscles.
- Feel the pelvis in a neutral position along the floor. The sacrum is rested on the mat evenly. This will consciously tighten your core.
- Take the arms about 10 inches away from the sides for optimal alignment and posture. Reposition the shoulder blades by lifting them onto the back of the head and drawing them down and in.
- The back of the neck, like the lower back, is not touching the floor. Move the head side to side, up and down, and ear to shoulder gently, breathing.
- With slow movements, find one point of balance on the back of the head, where the chin is perpendicular to the floor, tucked in, near the neck, feeling balance throughout the body.

BENEFITS

- Tones the glutes, outer thighs, calf muscles, shin, ankles, and feet. Strengthens knees and core.
- Shoulders and upper back are aligned neatly, stabilising the chest and arms.
- Awakens a deeper consciousness.
- Improves focus and concentration. Boosts energy.
- Strengthens nervous system.
- Good for senior citizens, pregnant women till the second semester, children and postnatal women.

LIMITATIONS

- Senior citizens and people recovering from prolonged illnesses can practise on their beds.
- Those who have undergone spinal surgeries or severe spinal hernias and shoulder or hip injuries, avoid this.
- To treat insomnia, mild depression, anxiety or brain-related illness, do only through clinical analysis.

- By N Elumalai, PhD scholar (Yoga Science) at Meenakshi Academy of Higher Education & Research, Chennai

RAISING THE BAR

Bengaluru is witnessing a surge in concept bars that are pushing the boundaries with unique experiences centred on design, tailored drinks, and a gourmet food menu — all coupled with that X-factor

WHAT does a paan shop have to do with the city's best kept secret bar? Welcome to '10', a trendy speakeasy modeled after the iconic watering holes of the Prohibition era in 1920s America. The sound of jazz and clinking glasses welcome you to this magnificent new establishment adorned with ornate chandeliers, tungsten lighting and statement furnishing as you walk past the premium paan shop and an inconspicuous entrance door. Yangdup Lama, India's award-winning bartender and mixologist, is the creator of the unusual cocktail list at '10', and the tapas-style world food selection perfectly matches the experience.

Namma Bengaluru is witnessing a surge in concept bars that are pushing the boundaries with unique experiences centred on the outlet design, tailored drinks, and a gourmet food menu — all coupled with that X-factor.

Take, for example, the newly-opened Record Room, the city's first craft beer and vinyl bar, which evokes nostalgic memories of a simpler era. With over 200 vinyl LP albums adorning the walls of this unique space, Record Room brings back our love for analogue music in this digital age. While you savour locally-brewed Geist and Toit artisan beers, gin-focused specialty cocktails, and a menu of international bar food, a DJ spins the turntable stylus with hits from pop to rock, funk, jazz, and blues. Record Room aims to develop a community of record lovers with interactive music sessions and a vinyl exchange programme for connoisseurs and the first-time vinyl listener. The bar features a limited-edition white turntable devoted to the Beatles' White Album, one of just 500 in the world!

Misosexy, a pan-Asian cocktail bar with funky oriental undertones and uber-cool vibes, is a beautiful newcomer on the bar scene. The beverages menu is separated into four sections: sweet, sour, savoury and umami, with signature cocktails and a variety of beers, wines, and straight drinks topping the list. The menu includes a variety of South-East Asian delicacies with a concentration on Japan, Singapore, and Malaysia. Every area in the restaurant is Instagram-worthy with soft lighting and chic interiors which ooze that extra oomph.

Botecos, or neighbourhood bars on street corners in Brazil, translate to 'a place for wonderful drinks and easy conversation' in Portuguese. With the recently-opened Boteco-Restaurante Brasileiro, we now have our own version in the Garden City with a menu of original and reinterpreted Brazilian dishes, as well as a focus on community-style cocktails. At Boteco, cachaça, Brazil's national spirit, takes centre stage, leading the charge with the caipirinha, the country's most famous cocktail, created with cachaça, lime and sugar. Cha-Preto, a cachaça-based community drink, and Summer Punch with cachaça, sugarcane juice, lime, pickle brine, and butterfly pea tea come highly recommended by the bar manager in addition to fruity house sangrias, chilled beers, and wine.

URBAN FLOODING AND A VULNERABLE CITY

OPEN SPACE
Tina Shashikanth
Chief Sub Editor
ruchita@newindianexpress.com

LAST week, I met a bunch of friends at home after a very long gap, thanks to the pandemic. After the initial pleasantries, someone pointed out that we were having actual conversations with each other, which was marvellous. Some of us had fallen sick and recovered, some of us had lost dear ones to Covid and some did not prefer to speak about their ordeals. Mostly, we were grateful to see each other after having witnessed the worst. The city, despite being enveloped by a host of thick, grey clouds, was abuzz with its usual weekend crowd and traffic.

It had been pouring outside from past two weeks. Harsh cyclonic weather surprised Bengaluru and we were discussing how the city was in distress following just one night of heavy thunderstorms. "It has become an annual experience from past few years," my friend remarked wryly. "Are we actually becoming used to this? How resilient are we?," another asked, as it started drizzling outside.

I recalled being stranded during last year's monsoon near the Lalbagh main gate as drains started spewing water onto the road and it became too dangerous to drive. It was very obvious that these drains had not been cleared. While handling the latest flood reports from various cities across Karnataka, I have been noticing various civic forums pointing to blocked storm water drains, faulty civic works and delayed cleaning as the primary reasons.

Recently, the water drains in my apartment building were cleaned and although we keep our surroundings trash-free, a gigantic heap of mud was pulled out. I wonder what the condition of city drains might be like and how long will it be before serious measures are taken to prevent flooding during rains.

Urban flooding has assumed serious proportions, affecting us in one way or the other. The response of the official machinery during floods such as rescue and the post-flood refurbishment process holds much importance. The cleaning up of silt, debris and restoration of water, power and sanitation services requires attentive planning and execution.

In their study titled Urban flooding in recent decades in four mega cities of India (2013), meteorological experts U S De, G P Singh and D M Rase say uncontrolled growth of mega cities has increased their vulnerability to flooding. They say urban flood management in developing countries requires an in-depth evaluation of socio-economic issues related to land use and urban development in context to the frequent urban flooding. Impacts can be reduced by various measures, such as better forecasting tech; identifying vulnerable zones; improved disaster management; improving old drainage systems, re-enforcement of weak, old buildings; preventing spreading of diseases; long-term plan for diversification of industries and job opportunities to prevent overcrowding of mega cities; creating public awareness on response to weather warnings and forecasts and finally, pollution control with planning for greener cities, including urban reforestation.

It poured throughout the night. My friends left after dinner and I watched from my balcony as lights atop a skyscraper under construction nearby became blurry, encased in fog.

Sound of music on animals

TUNING IN
Bindu & Ambi Subramaniam

(The authors run SaPa - the Subramaniam Academy of Performing Arts)

WE'VE all heard of pets singing along while their humans practice music (my cats run up and down the piano keyboard at odd hours), and it's hilarious. My friend's son regularly plays a playlist called 'Calming Music for Cats' for his Persians, who I must admit, seem pretty calm. Anecdotally, it seems that animals love and engage with music in their own way, so we wanted to see if there was any research to back this.

There's ample research to show how music helps people of all ages, whether it is to aid brain development or reduce anxiety, but there is also a reputed body of research that shows how music benefits animals, and how animals respond to music.

Monkey Music: A study by the University of Wisconsin – Madison, found that monkeys respond to music specifically composed for them. What does music for monkeys sound like? We aren't sure, but according to research, it is music that closely mimics the sounds and tones they make.

Music for Cats: TeyusMusic has created a soundtrack for cats, keeping in mind the sound that animals make, and the fact that they have a much broader range of hearing than humans. Their ears are also very sensitive, so they shouldn't listen to music too loud.

Parrots: In 2009, a study at Harvard University found that parrots were able to stay in time with rhythm and keep a beat. This has been linked to their ability to vocalise.

Cows and Music: In a study done by the University of Leicester, cows have been shown to produce more milk while listening to slower music, as opposed to fast, up-tempo music.

Unsurprisingly, music has also been shown to calm domestic animals like cats and dogs, decreasing heart rate and blood pressure, reducing their stress levels. Domestic animals are also very receptive to their human's feelings, so if people listen to music that they like, their pets are likely to respond well.

So if you're playing music around the house all day, it not only benefits you, but your pets too!

CHARLIE CHAPLIN TO BE PRESENTED AS A PROMINENT CHARACTER IN KIRANRAJ'S 777 CHARLIE

Kiranraj reveals the reason behind the title of 777 Charlie, and how it is a tribute to the world-famous artiste

A SHARADHAA

RAKSHIT Shetty and the team are overwhelmed with the responses to the trailer of 777 Charlie, which has received over 30 million views across all languages.

Director Kiranraj's much-anticipated film, which is slated for a June 10 release, is billed as a visually appealing drama. While the film revolves around Dharma (Rakshit) and his dog, named Charlie, Kiranraj reveals another interesting aspect that went behind naming the film. "I'm a die-hard fan of Charlie Chaplin, and it is by watching his movies that I understood that cinema is all about visual appeal. I have experimented with this in my previous work, a 12-minute short film, Kabbina Halu (2012), and a segment titled, Sagara Sangama for an anthology, Katha Sangama. Both shorts were conveyed without dialogues," he says.

"Being a fanboy of Charlie, I made sure to bring his name and presence in my picture," says Kiranraj, who also spoke about the importance of the number 777. "According to Indian numerology 7 symbolises love, friendship, and bonding.

In the West, the number 777 has an angelic touch to it. There are seven wonders in the world. Likewise, there are 7 amazing moments of Charlie in the film. Moreover, it is universal, and my lucky number too. So that's how the name 777 Charlie came about," he says.

Incidentally, along with Dharma, Charlie, and the rest of the cast, the director has brought the presence of Charlie Chaplin as a character throughout the film. "The presence of Charlie Chaplin will be either in the form of props or on TV, or in the form of a dialogue, and the character will travel with Dharma from beginning to end," says Kiranraj who shares a design of Charlie Chaplin that is used in the film. "Dharma is a factory employee, who is in charge of welding design. He uses his experience to design a structure of Charlie Chaplin."

A still from 777 Charlie

Director Kiranraj has also used the very famous speech of Charlie Chaplin from The Great Dictator in 777 Charlie. "The Great*Dictator* was the only film where Charlie Chaplin had dialogues. And the speech where Chaplin imitates Hitler has been used in our film, and it will be one of the best scenes in 777 Charlie. I'm confident that this particular portion will create goosebumps amongst the audience," he says.

"Forty per cent of our film has no dialogues. Even though there are situations where we could have Rakshit deliver dialogues, we have opted to just go with visuals. Even if the audience watches 777 Charlie on mute, the visuals of the film will still be conveyed with emotions," he says.

'The tunes of Gadang Rakkamma were first created on the harmonium'

... says Anup Bhandari, who has penned the lyrics for the peppy track composed by Ajaneesh Lokanath

CE FEATURES

THE lyric video of Gadang Rakkamma from the Sudeep-starrer, Vikrant Rona, dropped on Monday. The song, which features Sudeep and Jacqueline Fernandez, has since gone viral.

Reportedly made at a cost of ₹ 6 crore, the song is written by Anup Bhandari, who is also helming the action entertainer.

The director shares that a long process went behind the composition of Gadang Rakkamma. "When Ajaneesh (composer) and myself sat to compose this song, we decided to go by the 70's method, where music composers used harmonium. Likewise, the first tunes were created for this song on the harmonium, and it was later developed with different instruments. We wanted to keep its mass, and at the same time add value to the lyrics. That way it was a tough song to write and compose, but we have balanced it right," says Anup.

A still from Vikrant Rona

Sung by Nakash Aziz and Sunidhi Chauhan, the song is choreographed by Jaani Master, and features almost 1000 dancers. "When Jaani came on board, I first asked him to give as many hook steps as possible. For the three-and-a-half-minute song, the choreographer had sent 25 minutes of dance footage. We picked the best from these hook steps, based on which the song sequence was shot," says Anup.

The mystery thriller, which will be released in 3D, is presented by Zee Studios and is produced by Manjunath Gowda's Shalini Artss banner and Invenio Origins.

The multilingual film, which will be out in Kannada, Tamil, Telugu, Malayalam, and Hindi, is also expected to release in Arabic, German, Russian, Mandarin, English, etc.

With cinematography by William David, Vikrant Rona also stars Nirup Bhandari and Neetha Ashok.

'We knew that RRR wouldn't be as big as the Baahubali films'

GOPINATH RAJENDRAN

IT'S tempting to say that Sabu Cyril, one of India's most celebrated art director-turned-production designers, has seen it all when it comes to cinema. In fact, he has perhaps even done it all... from the simpler sets of films like Sila Samayangalil (2018) and Thenmavin Kombath (1994) to grand and complex ones in Saaho (2019) and Guru (2007). He has taken us into the past with films like Hey Ram (2000) and Marakkar: Lion of the Arabian Sea (2021) and taken us into the future with Enthiran (2010). He has introduced us to superhero universes like in Ra.One (2011) and Krrish 3 (2013) and to worlds where normal people are superheroes, like in the recently released RRR. Ask the veteran what he thinks about the sheer scale and versatility of his work, and he simply says, smiling, "As long as people enjoy the film, I'm happy." Excerpts:

Sabu Cyril

National Award-winning production designer Sabu Cyril talks about his much-praised work in RRR which has now begun streaming on ZEE5 and Netflix

You worked with director SS Rajamouli on the Baahubali films as well. How different was RRR?

Rajamouli knew that RRR wouldn't be as big as the Baahubali films. He enjoys a challenge, and I relish it too. We discussed the film for six months before it went on floors. The pandemic meant that it took us three more years to finish the film. We couldn't bring foreigners into India during that period; so, during the break after the first lockdown, we went to Ukraine and shot there for a month.

There may be some fiction in the film, but the story is rather realistic. Rajamouli told me about the period the film is set in, and we collected references. Though the action would be over the top, we still had to recreate the colonial era. Even the CG work ensures that the film is rooted in some realism.

Be it for a fun film like Panchathantiram (2002) or a hard-hitting subject like Kaalapani (1996), your production design has always been in sync with the objectives of a film. How did you set about the plan for RRR?

It all comes down to believability. The subject and emotions of a film are important. Sometimes, films in which we do an excellent job don't even get noticed (laughs). For RRR, everything was shot on sets, and we used extensions to increase the scale. For the interval fight sequence, we used everything from water fountains to rigs for cars, and miniatures.

A still from the film RRR

When compared to the Baahubali films, the timeline, technology, architecture, and automobiles in RRR are more recent. What research went into your work?

The events happen in pre-independence times, and within the film, we didn't have to worry about changing timelines as it usually takes about 40 years for major differences to happen. This has reduced to a span of 10 years in current times. I grew up in a tea estate that was created for the British and the Scottish people. It was filled with architecture and furniture that helped us with references for RRR. We made a lot of furniture and wall panels. While for Enthiran, the work had to be futuristic, for RRR, the work ought to feel believable. As for automobiles, during those times, they used bikes like BSA, Indian and Triumph ranging from 350 to 500cc. We sourced those and modified modern bikes to look like them, as the old vehicles simply lacked the capacity to go fast. We managed to get a few old cars as well and we bought Willys jeep to convert into an older model.

Talk to us about the use of miniatures in this film...

We used miniatures for the train sequence and the final armoury blast. When people think of miniatures, they think of tabletop models. The armoury miniature was 22 feet in fact, and about four storeys big. It had to be one-third or one-fourth in scale to make sure that the perspective would remain right.

The pandemic must have been a hard pill to swallow amid all the work.

The pandemic slowed down the work as we couldn't shoot at all for many days. We used that time for planning and ideating, over Zoom calls and Google meets. Technology came in handy more than ever. On the sets in Aluminium Factory, Hyderabad, we created one to be Rajamouli's office. It had space for workshops, a rehearsal hall, an editing suite, four make-up rooms, one conference hall, and a room for each HOD. For my team and production, we had small houses that doubled as accommodation as well.

Action sequences were comparatively difficult and more time-consuming to shoot. They took three months to be canned. We shot with an average of about 200 people on an everyday basis and some days, this went up to 1,000.

The audience, in general, seems to appreciate production design only when the film is set on a grand canvas. What's the right way to appreciate this aspect of filmmaking?

I have done films like Kanchivaram (2008), and though they are not lavish in scale, they too demand a lot of work. My budget for that film was just Rs 1 lakh. In cinema, actors were first noticed. Today, directors get noticed too, and so do cinematographers. Art direction is being slowly understood, but having said that, what I do is something only the cast and crew can truly understand. As for the audience, they notice my work when they compare it with another designer's work in a different film. Ultimately, as long as they enjoy the film, our job is done. We will continue to make the extraordinary seem ordinary.
